2/21/2003 20:51	Larry Nicholson	Uncle	I am so sorry Dave,Laura.....
2/21/2003 21:00	Charlie Carnahan	friend/neighbor/ sudo-cousins	She will be missed	When rhiannon blew out the candles at her 9th or 10th b-day party and accidentally spit on the cake.....good times
2/21/2003 21:31	Riley McDevitt	Friend	Rhiannon its a shame that your time here was cut short but we'll never forget the times we had when you were here, you will be forever missed. To Dave, Bryan and the rest of the family stay strong, Rhiannon will be watchin over you guys.	Rhiannon just being Rhiannon
2/21/2003 21:38	Alicia Rance	Went to school with her	Well its been a while since i've seen Rhiannon, or Brian, but Rhiannon will be missed thats for sure. She made Reeves a more interesting place, lol:) To the Millers, my prayers are with you, and to Brian, i havent talked to you in a while, and i definately miss you, if you ever want to talk, just email me im here for ya.	I cant pick out one memory, its been a while, but She was a one of a kind girl, wont forget her individuality!
2/21/2003 23:00	Janelle Johnson	i had class with her, we were in video production together, we werent really friends, but we knew eachother	she will b missed very much by many people, she was one of the nicest people i have ever met, i jsut wish i would have been able to get to know her, and had more time to get to know her. Everyone has a reason on this earth, i think hers was to treat people nice, and to teach other people to treat eachother with respect, bacuse you never know when yo will losse some one	my faveorite memory was watchin her have so much fun with her friends making her vidoes. I didnt have many memories wiht her, but i always enjoyed how much fun she had, and how she was kind and cared about everyone
2/21/2003 23:05	Bryan Miller	Brother	I loved her, and miss her , and am thinking of her always.	her giving spirit and smile.

2/21/2003 23:08	Aaron Robinson	Boyfriend,	I have always tried to be there for her.... I messed up this time. I want it to be known I always will love her, no matter what.... Rhiannon was the person I loved.... I lost her and now I'm lost about where to go.... Someday, I hope to be with her again...	Everytime I was with her was my favorite.... She was there for me always, I just wish i could of been there for her this time..... I love her
2/21/2003 23:21	Jiana Gates	friend	I miss laughing with you, talking to you in classes, and making weird faces at me in orchestra. I will never meet anyone like you. You have the biggest heart out of many people i know and everyone that came in contact with had a better life in some way. I miss you so much.	getting yelled at in drama class for talking to much :), and having a sock fight! And letting me eat sum yummy cake that u made...even though u made me walk backwards all the way down the hall.
2/21/2003 23:45	Kathy Bowker	Friend of the family	Dave, Bryan, Nadine, Don & family, we are so sorry for your loss. Our thoughts & prayers are with you!	I remember Rhiannon as a bright faced little girl that had a big, big love of animals.
2/22/2003 0:02	Bryan Miller	Brother I knew her, my mom works at Reeves, and my brother had a few class' with her.	I was with her 2 the end, she was happy, i saw it.	the last trip on the ski lift with her she said "i love the snow" she was a happy girl. and a loved baby sister
2/22/2003 0:15	Sagan O'Bryan		Rhiannon was the sweetest girl, and I have never met anyone with such a big heart. She was always happy, and always a joy to be around, she will be truly missed.	I can't really remember any memories but she was always smiling, I never saw her sad or mad, she was just a happy bright lil' girl!
2/22/2003 0:25	chris croyle	family friend	Rhiannon you will always be remembered as a laughing cheerful lady. to the family im very sorry and i am always here for you.	when Rhiannon came over with ashley (my little sister) at our old house she said that the wolves talked to her, and she said that they told her the future it was great we all got a kick out of it you will always be loved rest in peace.

2/22/2003 1:36 Beth Caudill	I'm very sorry for your loss and even though i didnt school mate really know her as well as i wanted to, i will miss her.	She would always be by my locker talking to Ethan and i would smile. I never really was friends with her, but it would have been great to have been because people say she was an amazing person. I went to Elementary school with her also.
2/22/2003 1:37 Mindy Rogers	Went to school with her and rode the bus home and to school.. I didnt really know her, but knew she was a very BIG hearted young girl...we will miss her a lot.	Her smile and laugh.
2/22/2003 1:43 Brittany Lastoka	I went to the same school and we also went to the same camp a few years ago. Every time that I saw Rhiannon in the hall at school she always had the biggest smile on her face. She had the largest heart in the world for anything and everyone. She will be truly missed by :~*~L*O*T*S~*~ of people.	She was the clown of the camp.....
She made everything that we did a blast... She joked when people were down and she never gave up at anything. She had this horse names Scout. He was the most stubern horse I have ever met. She made that horse do everything if it took all that was in her. She was a never- giver-uper!!!!
2/22/2003 1:46 Dorothy Nicholson	Im so sorry for your loss. Laura I am always praying for u and the family.

2/22/2003 1:47 Ashlie Andersen	I had PE with her when she was a sixth grader and I was in eighth. I also went to Roosevelt with her for a few years.	I'll miss her smile that brightened the class. I never saw her down, always trying to have fun and see the good in things. My heart goes to her family.	It had to be when she was running around with the other sixth graders in the gym and just laughing as much as her face could handle.
2/22/2003 1:57 jeff	bryans friend	i never had the chance to meet her but from wut i have heard she was cool, and a good sister to bryan.
2/22/2003 2:15 Zack Anderson	Friend of Bryans	To Bryan and his family. I cant say how sorry I am for all of you. I know that Rhiannon will be missed greatly. Just remember to keep her in your hearts and she will always be with you.	Well I never got to know her very well, but I just remember hanging with Bryan at lakefair last summer and we went over to the park to watch Rhiannon do her jujitsu demonstration. I must say it was a pretty cool show and ill never forget how much fun it was watching it.
2/22/2003 2:22 Kelly Monthie	Went to school with her for one year at Reeves. I am good friends with bryan.	There's one thing that stuck out with Rhiannon; that's how much she smiled. Always laughing, smiling, having a good time. No one was bringing her down when she was in her best of moods. I admired this aspect of her. My sorrows are given to her family. God Bless. You will be missed, Rhiannon. You were a beautiful girl that had many memories to come and will be missed by many. With all my heart	In PE when she would spend time talking to the teacher who stayed in the locker room with us and asking her how her day was. I wondered how many people asked her that per day and I figured that Rhiannon was one of the few. Thank god for people like her.
2/22/2003 3:10 Kelli

2/22/2003 3:37	Mitzi Hopkins	Friend of Bryans	There are no words for my deep regret of this tragedy that happened to your family. I'm positive that her memory will live on in our hearts forever. Best wishes.
2/22/2003 13:16	Darryl Brooks	Friend of Dale Turner	I am truly sorry for you loss. From what Dale tells me she was quite the girl. You will be in my prayers.
2/22/2003 13:49	Candice Church	Friend of Bryans	i dont think there is any words i can say. But I love bryan and his family and Im sorry you had to go through this loss. From my understanding she was able to brighten everyones day and we shouldnt let her stop. She will be a memory that will last forever! Bryan or his family, if you ever EVER need anything Ill be here, to bring it to you, just to talk, feel free and again I am sooo sorry!	I havent had the chance to talk to her, but Bryan has told me much about her, and just hearing that and reading these posts makes me wish I could have seen her smile shine and her personality glow.
2/22/2003 15:25	Nikki Putscher	she was in some of my classes	I didn't really know her that well, but she still brightened my days, just like she did everyone elses. My prayers are with her family.	I remember her always smiling and never being mad.
2/22/2003 16:19	Robin Carnahan	Family Friend, Old Neighbor and Adopted Aunt	Rhiannon lived life to the fullest and is an inspiration to us all. The thing that I admired most about her is that she had no fear to express her love, her feelings and she never held back! If she wanted to do something she did it! If she wanted to say something she said it! She was an active participant in life, not an observer of life! My heart is broken that she left this earth so soon. Rhiannon believed in Jesus and is with him now. My prayers go out to all of Rhiannon's family and friends. We all need to learn from Rhiannon and live how she lived, To: Treat people how you want to be treated.	My favorite memory of Rhiannon was how loving and caring she was. When she was my neighbor she used to always pick me flowers. This past summer her Grandma brought her over to bring me flowers. They were purple Cala Lilys. It reminded me of when she was little and she would pick me dandelions or whatever "pretty" flowers she could find me.

Scool, and i knew her sence kindergarten. Im very sorry. We all miss her very much!! She was so nice! We aare all very sorry about her death. We will always remeber her funny stories. Like the Jersey Devil. She told us this @ ashleys party like a year ago. It was so funny. I miss her alot! She will always be remember. Love always
 Camille Ann Berryessa
When i was at Ashley Croyals Party like a year ago or something. We all sat in the living room and turned off all the light. She told us a story of the Jersey Devil. Our friend tabitha almost Pee'd her pants. It was scary but funny. She scared Tabitha real bad. I will never forgt that. We will always pass that story on!

2/22/2003 16:56 | Mariah Mao
Roosevelt Elementary/ friend I remeber the first time I met Rhiannon was in the fourth grade. I met her off of my cousin Ceda Chan. Rhiannon was a good friend of Ceda's. In the 5th grade Ceda died and Rhiannon was there for me and everything. She was a true friend. She was always so sweet, considerate, kind, and nice. She always had the biggest smile. That's what I loved about her. Nothing ever brought her down. She would just always be a happy girl. Rhiannon once told me that " Life rolls by like the pages of a good book". Well Rhiannon had lived life and was happy skiing. So we know that she died doing something she loved. We will always remeber and love Rhiannon Miller.
 Love always
 Mariah Michelle Mao
My favorite memory of Rhiannon was when we went to Camp Cispus. We had to make up little skits for the bon fire thing, and we did Snow White and the 7 dwarfs. Rhiannon wanted to be the prince, and she made everyone laugh when she did the skit.

Long time friend i miss you soo much...but i have to think of it as u lookin down on us. we all love you very much. no one will forget your beautiful smile, your chaming personallity and you loving heart. rest in peace sweet lil angel. I love you.
when we laughed for hours on end.

2/22/2003 18:04	Katie Henriquez	A schoolmate	It is always a shock when someone from your school passes on. You may have been their best friend, or their worst enemy, but no matter how much that you didn't know that person, you wished you got to know them better. I believe Rihannon had no enemies, because she was so nice to everyone there was no need to dislike her. Her smile and her presence was enough to make you turn around and say, wow, that girl is happy. We should not think of her as a soul we have lost, but an angel we have gained. My condolences go to the to everyone that she has touched, her friends, and her family.	Her smile. one in a million
2/22/2003 19:23	Rene', Bryan and Da	Her farther's good friend Dale Turner's Neice and family	David, Bryan and loved one's. We are so so very sorry for you lose. So unbelievable to think someone so loved so beautiful, so young could be gone in an instant. But, to think we now have an angel. Our prayers, our thoughts go out to you. With faith that God has a plan.	I haven't seen Rhiannon in many years. She was around three or four with the biggest brightest blue eyes. So sweet and sincere.
2/22/2003 19:30	Lisa	Dont no her	I feel terribly bad how she died, and i dont think she should of died at such a young age!!!	Dont no her
2/22/2003 20:06	Heather Foster and J family friends	We do not have the words to express our sorrow over your family's loss. You are all in our hearts and minds, and quite simply, if you need us we are here. We love you.	Climbing trees, riding bikes, and always smiling ...

She was a close friend to my daughter
Brittany

To Dave, Bryan, Granny and Gramps I feel your loss as if it was a child of mine. She was a fantastic girl, with a spirit that I have never seen before. Her love for everyone close to her was obvious. She always had a smile on her face and I just loved it when she called me Mrs.Embry. Her passion for life and her love towards her friends was and is an example that everyone needs to follow. I will miss her more then I can say. Please know that she was very much loved by my family, and she will be missed terribly.

My favorite memory of Rhiannon was her calling my Husband Jerry coach, she was so serious about baseball at the time. And he loved her very much for always being so kind towards him. She did everything with a SMILE :) We love you Rhiannon.

was a great kid growing up into a beautiful girl, which I know you all agree with me on. From living next to her ever since I moved her all the way up until she moved she was a wonderful light-hearted person. She always had a smile on her face and that I will never forget. I cannot begin to tell you how sorry I am for what happened. I know that this is something that cannot be fixed like a broken window. I don't know what I can do besides wishing you and Brian and Nadine the best wishes and letting you know that I am here and I love you guys as if you were our family. When babysitting for Rhiannon I picked up on a few tips, and to this day, have not forgotten them. She always taught me to smile, even if you're in the grumpiest of moods. She told me to always keep my head up cause no matter the problem there was always a solution (believe it or not she told me that). She always had a certain game that would teach me a little more about her every day. In the end she taught about her great passion for music. She always loved it, like her second animal I guess. I guess that is why I have stuck to choir the last 7 years, because I was motivated by her, Rhiannon. I am so sorry this tragedy was struck upon you, us. If I could go back in time and change it, believe me I would. Just, please, know that I will always be here and if you need somebody to talk to former babysitter (until she grew up), former next door neighbor

My favorite memory of Rhiannon was her beautiful smile, Wonderful Beauty, Rich blue eyes, and how tall she was! I will also remember the very first time I babysat for her and will always remember when she moved away and said that she'd always think about me and our friendship.

2/22/2003 20:20 Megan Comer

2/22/2003 20:28 Brianne Rudd	I knew her from her martial arts school. I was her private lesson teacher and every week I saw her we talked.	Every week I saw her for her lesson we would talk to each other. I could tell her anything. She was one of my closest friends there. We had so much fun talking and laughing together. She was such a bright light in my day. Her big smile always made me feel good. If I was having a bad day she would make me feel a whole lot better. She was the kind of person I could tell anything too. She was a great friend to me. I will miss her so much. Now she is in a better place now where her big smile will still shine bright like the sun. Every time I feel down I will look up in the sky and know she is up there watching us with that great big smile on her face.
2/22/2003 20:43 Kylie Hyke	I had class with her last year and she was a great kid.	Rhiannon was the best kid I ever met. I will never forget her from this terrible tradgedy. God bless Rhiannon Miller.	Being a great person to everyone she meets. She was fun and freindly.
2/22/2003 20:44 Blaze Embry	Best Friend	She was a very good friend and I will miss her so much. She always made me laugh and smile whenever I was sad. She always had a way to influence and befriend people. It's just hard to believe that she won't be at school everyday anymore. Like I said before... I will miss her a lot.	My favorite memory of Rhiannon was when we were little and would pretend that we were animals and play around. It was so fun....

Her and Joey Warner getting into a 'fight' on the bus. I wouldn't and couldn't call it a real fight... and she made a lasting impression on me, because even though Joey annoyed her (and everyone else) she was smiling and she couldn't let anything bring her down. It was uplifting to know she couldn't be brought down, and just seeing her made you smile. She definally made Reeves and the bus rides different, and they will be different, perhaps not as fun, without her.

when no one else would come out side with me, she would

Rhiannon, like many others have said, was always cheerful, and always made the bus ride home more fun, she was ALWAYS smiling, and laughing, and she was just full of happiness. She will definally be missed, even by people who weren't terribly close to her, because she lightened everyones day... my prayers are with the family, and everyone who was close to her.

she was a really nice person and i will miss her alot. I dont think i'm ever gonna have another friend like her.

Rode the same bus, and went to Reeves with her.

best friend

Rhiannon was a very close friend of mine. I know that my family and i will miss her dearly. I loved her like she was my sister. I will never forget her smiling every time i looked at her and her loving heart towards herself and others. There is so much to say about her because she was a very very good friend. I hope best wishes to Granny,Bryan,Don,Dave and the rest of her family.Remember i will always be here for you and for granny,bryan and the rest of her family.Cheering me up when i was down or sad.

Being there for me when i needed to talk. You will be missed by thousands of people!! I will miss you very 'much Rhiannon!!!!!!

Best Friend and a Very Good Family Friend

My favorite memory of Rhiannon is her smiling, laughing, and kindness towards me. I LOVE YOU!!! Birthdays, and skiing together, sleepovers, swimming, always keeping birthdays exciting, her love for animals.Always there for me.

2/22/2003 20:54 ' Ashley Croyle

when we where realy little we used to immitate animals kind of silly:)she also tried to catch Blaze for her picture of "Milliardo" there are many more things to say but i don't want to blab on and on.

Her and me were always playing animals in her fornt yard, and I'd always fall out of the tree. She'd run up to me and ask "Are you ok?" and I would say "I guess so"

2/22/2003 21:00 | Dustin Pollet

"one" of her best friends

Rhiannon was a realy great person and it was hard to except that she was gone it was like being punched in the face with the fist of reality.

2/22/2003 21:03 | John Pollet

Best Friend

Rhiannon was one of the kindest people I've ever known in the world.

Rhiannon never really knew how much she meant to me, i guess that i hid it well. I'll never know why, i guess that in a way it was what they call "tough love." She would always smile no matter what, it didnt matter. Her true love was for animals, she had her whole life planned out and unfortuantly she will never experience the rest of it. Because of her love she will never be forgotten! Bryan cous, I love you and i am so sorry, but you know that your sister loved you very much, and we all know that you loved her too! The way that rhiannon would look out for others was the best, even if she had a hard day she would forget her troubles to help out someone else. She would ask me for advice on all different things, and i would give her the best advice that i could but in the end i think that she would find the best advice within her heart. Her heart was filled with joy and she would always laugh, i will miss her a lot, and i hope that she knew in her heart that the reason why i was tough on her was because i cared and i did love

There are so many, but i think that my favorite was on Christmas this year. Bryan bought her a game and i cant recall the name, but i went into her room and i asked her to teach me how to play so she did. She went first and won because that is the way that it works out in that game, but because i lost she let me go first the next time. She had received her favorite song "Rhiannon" from her dad and she would smile everytime that heard her name.

Her Cousin

:her!

2/22/2003 21:55 : Shane Comer	former neighbor, friend	I was very shocked to find out about Rhiannon, and very hurt that someone so close to me could be pulled away so easily, never to see again. While I didn't see her a whole lot as of late, Rhiannon had always left a footprint in my heart before, and it's not going away now.	Hanging out with her and Brian while babysitting them awhile back, just goofing around like we all do.
2/22/2003 22:19 : Lee Hartson	not very well, in one of my classes, associated in the hallz	I didn't know you well we associated in class, in the hall, you were a very lively kid and thats what i liked about you.You will never be forgotten	Every one
2/22/2003 22:25 : joe putscher	didn't know her	I never really knew rhiannon, but whenever i saw her in the halls at school she was always with her friends, so i know that she was well liked and must have been a great person. it's so hard to believe that someone our age can be taken away so quickly, it makes u appreciate and feel lucky to have everything that you have. and i feel sorry for her family and friends, i hope that someday we all might be able to see her again.	didn't know her

It was last years fourth of July fire works display it was at the school up on top of the hill i brough sparklers for everone and thats when blaze saw rhiannon well it was actually rhiannon tackling blaze but i handed sparklers out to the kids for them to play with until it got dark and we all played games up there it was lots of fun and then while the fire works were going off we would tell each what kinf of colors of fire works we like and what one went off if we liked them or not. but it was a long night full of memories and That night is when she touched me in my heart cause i saw she was a great person and will always be a great person. We miss you.. Your friend Eric

I was lucky to meet Rhiannon, and in the few times i did get to meet here i always saw her with a smile, always happy and looking out for her friends... i dont think it is fair for such a young girl to have to leave this world and leave so many behind that care for her. And the people that got to meet her i know she had touched them some how in there soul in there heart but she did. she had a way of tounching people just like she touched me, Rhiannon even thoe u are gone, u will never be gone from our hearts and soul, u will live on inside each and everyone you touch. We miss you.

A friend of blaze embry that introduced me to Rhiannon and became friends

2/22/2003 23:47 Eric Barge

Rhiannon's father, Dave, lives next door to us and is our friend.

Rhiannon and Bryan would come over to visit my daughter. Dave and Bryan, you already know how sad Ron, Jennifer and I are over this tragedy. I cannot imagine what you must be going through right now.

This site is going to be a beautiful tribute to Rhiannon. I think she'd really, really like it.

The time I took her to the barn with us and she started galloping down the aisle between the paddocks, slapping her rear, whinnying (is that a word?) and pretending to be a horse. LOL She was really a free spirit.

Uncle Don, Aunt Deanie, Bryan, Dave & Laura:
I will always be a phone call away. So please let me help any way that I can.

Rhiannon was so good with my son, Matthew. When I lived with my parents, he would go back to Don & Deanie's to play with Rhiannon. They would go on adventures in the forest and go on bike rides together.
On Sunday, Feb. 16, I had gone to my Aunt Deanie to tell her how well I thought that Rhiannon was doing in helping out with the children's church. I told her that she has a real gift with kids and she's doing a good thing. I also indicated that the boys and the girls really love her.
I'm so glad that I had the opportunity to be her cousin.

Matthew Allen Boyd cousin

She was my

to everyone that Rhiannon knew

My favorite memory of Rhiannon is that when I was lonely, I would think of her and I'd feel a lot better than I felt before.
And she liked to ride bikes with me. On Sunday, Feb. 16, after church, she said, "I promise that I will go on a long bike ride with you on the road and it will be on Monday." (Before they left for the trip).

2/23/2003 2:46	Bryan Miller	Brother	I am going to write 13 of these to honor the 13 wonderful years of my baby sister's life. she lived it to the fullest. she didn't need anything to entertain her, she would make anything and everything a game, that was enough for her. She loved the Lord of the rings, books and movies and she couldn't wait to see the third movie, and now she never will. she was a treasure, that I tried like any big brother did to keep, and protect, but no matter what happens i will always be her big brother and she is my baby sis', nothing,not even death can change that, im still thinkin about ya sis' luv ya lots and i will see u again someday.	every short moment i spent was my favorite even the fights, I would give anything in the world to fight with her one more time.
2/23/2003 3:09	Bobbi Harrison	friend of her beloved Granny - I've known Deanie since we were in grade school.	Although I never had the opportunity to meet Rhiannon, this beautiful web site with all the lovely photos & heartfelt tributes to her has made me appreciate even more what a tragic loss her untimely death is to so many people. My heart aches for you Deanie, Dave, Don & Bryan & you have my most heartfelt deepest sympathy.

2/23/2003 12:25	: Kristin Davis	Staff member at Roosevelt Elementary	You walked the halls with such confidence. Thank you for your smile, your laughter, your tall stature, your helpful attitude. Although I didn't know you well, your presence Roosevelt was a powerful one. I was in Leavenworth at a hotel and heard your name on the news. I was sick and sad. To your family...this website is wonderful! Thank you for sharing your sweet Rhiannon with all of us! What a lucky girl to have such a loving family!
2/23/2003 13:51	: Meagen Miller	none	As a mother of three wonderful boys, one a thirteen year old, my heart greatly goes out to your family. My favorite saying is "Life is not a dress rehearsal". I am sure Rhiannon lived her life to the fullest every moment. At least you have that memory to keep with you forever. Take care, Meagen
2/23/2003 13:54	: Kristian Parten	I went to sholl with her and we were very close. i studied martial arts	We miss you very much but you are in a better place now, there will be no more pain or sorrow there.

2/23/2003 14:30	Nikki Journey	I met the big friendly giant in 7th grade. We talked daily in orchestra. Friend of	At first I wasn't sure if it would be right for me to sign this guestbook, i still don't know if it is. She was such a great person, I just still can't believe its tru.She was just one of those people whose smile made u smile, and thats just awesome. Not that many people have that effect, but she did.I can't even imagine what all those close to her must feel.My prayers are with you all.	4th period, everyday in orchestra. Rhiannon and I sat by eachother.She was just so nice to me, me being the only 7th grader with a bunch of 6th graders. She was the only one that I could talk to that period, and she went out of her way to talk to me, and that was so sweet. I remember having fights with our bows, and rosin.Every time I hear cello musiz, I always think of her and her big smile.

There are a few things that make me laugh about Rhiannon. She would often ask to be excused to go to the office to get a bag of ice for an injury she got while in PE (Don't worry, they all need that little bag of ice once in a while!) Only to see her later sucking the water out of the tiny hole in the bottom of the bag and dripping water all over her desk. A couple of weeks ago I assisted her in a locker clean out (we were looking for missing books). We didn't find any missing books but we did find some Halloween candy, a cookie (Rhiannon took a bite out of it to see if it was OK) her missing belt, a sweatshirt she hadn't seen in a while and her notebook full of drawings. Did she discard any of this, heck no, she shoved it all back in the bottom of the locker and slammed the door saying that she would take care of it later.

2/23/2003 15:15 Crystal McCoy	long time family friend	Rhiannon was a friend to everyone ever sense she was little. I remember going to baseball games with my family and her cusin being on my dads team. She would always be dragged along with us to out of state games but she never complained when i was there, she just loved to be able to be around everyone. Shes the type of person that will never be fogotten. She always had the biggest smile on her face and her dreams were never ending. I know that she is gone now but i cant wait to see her in the future. She will always be watching you brian so BE GOOD!! lol may she be in are hearts forever. Nadine you made her a wonderful woman and we know she lived the life that she had to the fullest.	when we were in oregon in 6th grade playng in the hotels swimming pool. I pushed Brian in the pool and she jumped on me and knocked me in after him...great funn...thats how i know that you to were really close even thought you argued with her all the time lol fun fun never forget the old times!!!

I was watching the fireworks and running around with my cousins, who were her close friends, and she comes right over to me and introduces herself. I talked to her for a while and she told me she was taking Judo lessons, and how tough she would be when she was finished.

2/23/2003 16:22	dee	a passer by	I send my condolences to all of her loved ones. From what I have seen and know she was a great person who was and is greatly loved.
2/23/2003 16:23	Sarah Press	a friend i went to the dojo with her	Rhiannon was a really cool person to get to know i really liked hanging out with her on the team program when i got the chance. i will miss having her around	my favorite memory of Rhiannon was one day we were sitting talking and we started to play cards she beat me it was my favorite game
2/23/2003 16:23	Aaron Robinson	Boyfriend	I never saw her when she didn't smile at least once..... She always could turn a bad situation into a good one, no matter how bad.... I told her once that "Though the times may be trying, I will no be daunted." and I think she wants everyone to do the same. She wants us to keep going and keep her memory alive in our hearts and head.	Whenever I saw her
2/23/2003 16:31	Lori Baker	None	I am so very sorry for your loss. I have also lost my 13 year old daughter, Monica, who was suddenly killed (while camping)in the summer of 2000. It seems that our daughters had a great deal in common. Monica's birthday was Nov. 15th, she also attended Roosevelt Elementary, was studying the cello and leaves behind one brother. If you need someone to talk to (that has been there) please email me. Our family shares in your loss.
2/23/2003 16:47	Lloyde Newman	Worked with the kids at ECC Kid's Church	 Our thoughts and prayers have been with your family. You were such a bright and sunny addition; and the smaller kids loved you. Embrace Jesus for me.	 Her wonderful countenance, and always, always looking to help others.

Didn't know her.

I am so sorry for your loss. Losing a child is the Hardest. I go to Ecc and know she will be missed greatly. I pray hte Lord will give you peace in these hard times ahead.

2/23/2003 17:02 Kaycee Howard

Rode school bus and went to Reeves with her.

I know I've already signed one of these, but I was reading the guestbook, I read one about her pretending to be a horse. It instantly came back to me, Rhiannon and I had ridden at the same barn, Weeping Willow Ranch.
I instantly clicked the photo album button, and there was Rhiannon riding one of my old favorite horses, Babe, and her again, with Mo. I guess I probably screamed rather loud, because my mom was downstairs, and yelled to ask me what on earth was wrong... that was something that there had always been in her...horse lovers always have, something else in them... and you could tell it was there. I don't know if this story has any relivance, because I don't remember ever riding with her.. but I know, that atleast it's made one person miss her a little more, and made her a little more remember. She'll never be forgotten... and my prayers are with the family and people close to her.

I know I have already signed this book once but I just feel that I should leave a message for Dave. This is such a beautiful site you have made in honor of Rhiannon. She was such a beautiful, loving, fun girl to be around and always brightened somebody's day with just her smile. She could simply walk into a room and all you'd think about is, "Rhiannon's here now! Everything will be just fine from now on!"
I cannot begin to tell you my deepest sympathy because it is that great. Mom and Jim send you there love and Ben is thinking about you, Bryan, and the family. As you know Shane, John, and Dustin have signed the book letting you know how they feel. So now our whole family is with you in this time of need. Again, our hearts are with you and we all love you very much.
God Bless Rhiannon Miller.

One of my other favorite memories of Rhiannon was when her and I would play a game we called "Nutz" It was about a young squirrel (me) and an old mean gopher (her) who tried to steal all of my peanuts before season was over. LOL It was the cutest game and I loved watching her try to get her voice as deep as she could so she could sound like the mean old gopher trying to take my peanuts. hehe she was such an adorable girl and I will never forget that game. Everytime from that point on that she came over she would always ask me, "megan, do you want to play "Nutz"????" I will miss that very very VERY much. When I grow up that will be a game I want to teach to my daughter and I'll let her know that I learned it from a young girl who had such great dreams in life.

Summers at the ballparks around the Northwest, watching Rhiannon, Bryan, Kevin, Crystal, Kirsten and Curtis among many others, running in the hot sun, swimming in the hotel pools, just being kids. And more recently, at Reeves, commenting on Rhiannon's flag shirt and how I felt the need to salute her. She laughed and stood real tall, grinned that unforgettable grin, and we saluted each other. She just made everything joyful! I would occasionally slip and call her "Kirstan", because she reminded me so much of her cousin. Very emphatically, Rhiannon would whirl around and say, "I'm RHIANNON!" I salute you now, girl, and hold you close to my heart.

One thing that I remember about Rhiannon is that she was always happy in whatever she was doing and I think that is very important...

My favorite memory of Rhiannon was when a girl walked up to her and told her that she had ugly clothes. Rhiannon didn't do anything or say anything back. All she did was look into the girls's eyes, smile, and walk away. That's something that admire her for. Smiling...

Went to school with her. Played cello with her for a year and half. Just knew her though...
Even though I wasn't very close to Rhiannon I really toke notice of her. I could walk down the hallway and see someone insulting her or disrespecting her and every time I saw this she would just smile and walk away. Nothing could bring her down. Not even an insult or bad news. Whenever I saw her she would be smiling. Even though Rhiannon and I had our times, I will never forget her smile.

2/23/2003 17:36 Rachael	I went to school with her and knew her, but not very well.	I wish this hadn't happened! It's so hard to lose someone and I wish i could make it better for her family somehow.	I didn't spend much time with her, but she was a great cello player-i was in orchestra with her.
2/23/2003 17:46 Erin Coburn	Went to Reeves with her, and rode the bus to school with her.	I didn't know Rhiannon very well and never really got the chance to talk with her, but she always, on the bus, would be the only sixth grade girl to stand up for herself against all the guys, and I really admired that in her!	Just the bus rides home, I never got to know her very well.
2/23/2003 17:51 Hana Klimek	I went to school with Rhiannon.	Although I wasnt extremly close with Rhiannon, she was always kind to me. She always seemed to look on the bright side of things and she seemed to be a really cool person.	In my block class I remember Rhiannon did a native american presentation. throughout the entire presentation you could tell that she really enjoyed talking about what she new.I wish that I could have gotten to know her better.
2/23/2003 18:13 Maya North	An Olympian reader and mom	I am so sorry your angel was taken from your lives. There is no pain to equal this, and the truth is, you won't get over it. You will learn to live with and around it, and you will find yourself more and more remembering the joy of having her with you and loving her. I have lost many people in my life-- brother to AIDS at 35, son to miscarriage at 15 weeks, mother to brain cancer and friend to suicide-- within a 5 year period. I am well familiar with the paths of grief. It takes time to heal, and nobody can say how long that is but the one who needs to heal. Reach for love, take your time. More of us out here are with you in spirit than you may know... Maya

2/23/2003 18:53	Barbara Koch	Substitute teacher at Roosevelt	Rhiannon was a great help when I was in her classroom. She lit the room when she smiled. God bless all of you as you miss her. It is not easy to lose a child and you never forget them.	She was convinced that she would reach her goals.
2/23/2003 18:54	Cheryl Freymond	Mother of one of Rhiannon's classmates	I only knew of Rhiannon through my daughter, Rachael, who has nothing but kind things to say about her. After reading all the wonderful entries in this guestbook, it's very clear that Rhiannon was an angel here on earth.

I am so sorry for the loss being felt by her wonderful family, and her many friends. What a privelege it must be to have shared as much time with her as you were able.

I believe that the Lord had a special mission on earth for Rhiannon and she's already accomplished it. Though her loss will be felt forever, she will continue to touch the lives of all who knew her.

May the Lord bless you all with a sense of peace, and of understanding.

Thank you for taking the time to put together this wonderful website as a memorial to her. It's outstanding.

2/23/2003 23:07	Mrs. O'Donnell	Teacher at Roosevelt	I have always enjoyed the Miller Family. I had Bryan in 4th grade and I can remember Rhiannon always stopping by to ask how Bryan was doing in class. She loved her big brother, and Bryan loved his little sis. How could you not! She was a great kid. Bryan, I am thinking of you! Take care and keep writing those great entries for your little sis.	Rhiannon would have to walk by my classroom door every day when she was in 4th and 5th grade, she would always say a cheerful good morning and give me a big smile.

2/23/2003 23:43	Katie Collins	Reeves Middle School Faculty	I'm the 'teacher' who stays in the locker room before and after PE that Kelly Monthie referred to earlier. Rhiannon was one of the wonderful highlights of my day: in the locker room, hallway or lunchroom. She had a presence unusual for one so young. Rhiannon always cared for all those around her and bristled at any unfairness. What a lovely young lady! She will leave a hole at Reeves not easily refilled. I feel privileged to have had her pass through my life. Thank you for sharing her with us.	I am also on lunch duty at Reeves. It was always a challenge to keep Rhiannon in her seat to finish lunch. She wanted to visit with everyone at once!
My last memory is of her waiting for Granny to pick her up after school, with a smile on her face as usual.
2/23/2003 23:52	Susan Eichrodt	Mother of a fellow ChiDoKai student	To the parents of Rhiannon. Though I didn't know your daughter, my son Sean did. For a time last year he helped teach the ChiDoKai class Rhiannon was in. He told me Rhiannon was one of his favorite students. From what I have seen in this beautiful website, she was a wonderful young lady, a gift to those around her. I am so very sorry for your loss. I cannot imagine anything harder than to lose a child. It's not the way it should happen. My thoughts and prayers are with you.

2/24/2003 0:34 Bryan Miller	Big brother	number 4 only 9 more to go, sis i am thinking of you, i almost broke down and cried when they talked about you in church, then i thought about how you would feel if I was sad, and i thought of what you would say to me to try to make me happy, and it worked thanks sis' i miss u much.	when i convinced her to go on a rollercoaster with me in florida, and even though she was scared she did it and after that she was hooked on rollercoasters.
2/24/2003 1:16 Jiana gates	friend at school, and the dojo.	I know ive already signed this, but i didnt say everything that i would have liked to. When ever I was uppset about something, was Rhiannon was always trying to get it out of me what was wrong. Before class at the dojo, we would always just sit and talk about our day, insted of getting dressed. I know it sounds weird, but it's just what we did together. She loved to talk, as anyone who knew her knows. She had great talent at the cello, and she had just recently started showing it off to everyne at school. By the way, everyone is very proud of you for gettin 4th chair. :) No one will ever fill that place. We all miss you a lot, but i know your happy.	Seeing her everyday with a brand new smile, and talking with her/...she always cared.

My deepest heartfelt feeling goes out for Dave, Laura and Brian at this time. I know the loss I, m feeling at the passing of this sweet angel can, t compare to what your feeling. I love you Rhiannon. I always have and always will , Sweet Angel.

I have many---But I will only add a few. I was honored to be a guest with Dave and the children at one time . I went to Archibald Sisters and got a bunch of soaps for Rhiannon. Little flowers and many different shapes. They were in a bowl on her dresser so she could use them when she wanted. One of the shapes was an alligator.
I went to clean her room one morning and her aquariaum was milking white and her fish were floating . I found after flushing the dead fish that the alligator had a new home in the fish tank. I spent the morning cleaning the tank and ran to the pet store to buy more fish. She noticed her fish were fatter and I moved the soap to the bathroom . She was four years old at the time.
That summer we went fishing . It was a private lake and Dave was working a job there. We had a great time of it and the look on her face was one wonder and excitement, when she got her first fish. Of course , she wanted to take them home for pets. Between Rhiannon , Brian and myself . We caught about a dozen fish that day and it was great fun for us all.

It doesnt seem fair that you were taken so soon, but God obviously had his reasons. I love you and I will never forget your wonderful smile. Spread your wings and fly to your hearts content honey.

Rhiannon was spending the night at our house with my daughter Ashley. Her and Ashley loved the woods. Rhiannon found a lizard and brought it into the house. I freaked!!! I am so scared of things like that. I told her to take it outside. The next day, I had learned that she snuk it into the house and it was with her ALL NIGHT!! She asked Granny if she could keep it for a pet. Well now Rhiannon you can have all the pets you have ever wanted. Rest in peace our little angel. We love you.

To the family of Rhiannon,
 We will all remember Rhiannon as the funny, smart girl that she was. She will always live inside of us, we will always have a little piece of us inside of her. She will be in our hearts and our minds until the ends of our days.
She always knew how to make us feel better, and I know that if she were here, she would say, "Its ok.
Everything will turn out for the best." I think we need to grieve for our loss, and I think we need to remember her always. She was near and dear to all of us, and everyone that knew her is a better person for it.
Sincerely,
Sean Eichrdt

The good-bye party at the Pritchette ranch for Sensei Rosen.

My first thoughts when I heard the tragic news were, "Oh, please don't let this be Rhiannon. Let this not be true." Dave, I'm so sorry it was true. My heart goes out to you and your family at this time.
 I hope you can find peace in the fact that you have created many wonderful memories of Rhiannon . . . links to your little angel in a world not-so-far away . . . I know she will love you eternally for all the love you have showered upon her in her short life.
 When you feel the warmth of the sun on your face, remember how Rhiannon's presence would warm the entire room, and how her smile could cheer even the dullest corner. When you see the cobalt blue of the afternoon sky disappearing into the velvet darkness of early evening, remember that your love and encouragement constantly drove Rhiannon's ambition to reach for the stars. When you know the first snow is falling, don't despair -- remember how much she loved this beautiful world and how, like the snow, her pure little soul will constantly remind us that she's not that far away. When you hear the beautiful strains of a sweet melody, embrace the music, for I am sure that Rhiannon will be doing the same.
 Smile when you remember Rhiannon . . . that's what she would want us all to do.
 I miss her too. Our deepest sympathy to Dave and the rest of the family in their time of grief.

Rhiannon's smile. It was so huge . . . it warmed my spirit and gave me hope that there are so many good children in this world -- kids who love their folks, who love others, and want to do the right thing. Rhiannon's smile will live on in my heart forever.

2/24/2003 12:34	Matt McClain	Long time friend of Dave and Laura	I knew Rhiannon her whole life. I watched her grow up..and up..and up. Rhiannon was wise beyond her years, yet still wet behind her ears. Her passing fills me full of tears. I know that she would say, 'Don't worry, I'll see you again someday, but don't be in a rush.'	Dave had brought Rhiannon and Bryan over to my house as Josephine and I were in the middle of a remodeling project. She was intrigued with Jo's New Zealand accent. The conversation of extreme sports came up and Jo mentioned that she was a snow boarder. Bryan gave her a high five on that. I mentioned that I was a skier and Rhiannon said that she was too. Then it was Rhiannon and me verses Bryan and Josepine as we playfully 'dissed' each others method of having fun in the snow. I wish we could do that again.

2/24/2003 13:55	Linda and John McC Dave	 Friend of	 God Bless you Rhiannon.	We remember Rhiannon having a great time running and laughing, always in motion at our Labor Day Fly-in's. So full of energy.

2/24/2003 13:57	lizz turner(dales dau	friend of family	Rhiannon was almost like a cousin to me. I remember when my parents were still married we went camping with her and her brother and uncle david we had a crazy time but it was really fun.I miss her soo much its crazy.She will be missed. :-)	Going camping and just hanging out with her.She was an amazing person.
2/24/2003 14:49	Susan Sloan	none	My son played in the Reeves orchestra with Rhiannon, but neither he nor I really knew her. From everything I've read, she was a delightful young woman. I have been praying for your entire family to know God's peace and presence during this time of grief and sorrow. Knowing Rhiannon's in heaven with her Jesus can give you reassurance of seeing her again some day! May the God of peace be with you all.	I'm sorry I never knew her.
2/24/2003 14:52	Brittny Kirsch	a friend	we all miss you and hope you are in a better place and doing what you love rest in peace and may god be with you	she was always happy never mad at anyone and she was so tall everyone knew her by that she will be missed if only she can see how many people care about her
2/24/2003 15:13	Freda Lakner	 Rhiannon's Aunt Freda	Rhiannon, you make me smile though the tears. I Love you Rhiannon.	I admired how she could take something little and simple and make it BIG and SPECTACULAR! Always making the ones around her feel loved and special.We are.....We were touched by her.
2/24/2003 15:24	Kassandra %22K.T.%	I've been friends with Rhiannon since 1st grade	I really miss you.	When we were in 2nd grade we were all putting orange slices in our mouths and smiling, but Rhiannon put a hot dog in her mouth and smiled and it was really funny, at least it was in 2nd grade!

		Reeves Middle School Staff	I would like to express my deepest sympathy- You and your family are in my thoughts.

			we were good friends and she was always there for me and we promised we would grow up and live with each other and travel around the world.	she was really funny and she and I got along together very well and never got into fights and she was fun to be around.
2/24/2003 16:25	Tanica simmons	we were good friends. We were really good friends in Roosevelt and in Reeves.	 I Will Always remember you.
			I will always miss her and, she was always very sweet to everyone. I will never ever forget you.	She would run around the school chasing boys. And she was really good at the cello.
2/24/2003 16:35	Kayla Weedon		Your friend Kayla Weedon.	Something I will never forget is how tall she was.
		Our son, Mark M. Frazier, related to Rhiannon's grandparents through marriage to Diane Clouse. Grandparent, Don Clouse is Diane's Frazier brother.	We will always remember a fun-loving, delightful young lady - so full of life and vivacity, so talented and eager to live on in this world. Tag and I so enjoyed her visits to the bay; all the family birthday celebrations, Christmas times and other holidays together with all family members, and other events where we enjoyed seeing her. She will always be in our hearts this truly vivacious and loving girl. She was and is a jewel. Our love and prayers go out to Deanie, Don, Bryan, and Dave and Laura Miller. Rhiannon is now in loving hands of our Lord.	Playing with the younger set of relatives; at Christmases always.

2/24/2003 17:52	Mrs. Turner	Parent volunteer at Roosevelt	I had the privilege of seeing Rhiannon at least once a week (2nd & 3rd grade + baseball). She was a great girl. Always optimistic and full of life. She seemed very confident in herself and was so caring of others. She was so sweet!!
I haven't seen her in a couple years since we moved but from what I've read, it seems like she was the same wonderful Rhiannon I remember.
 My deepest sympathy to her family and friends.	She gave great hugs and she always made a point to say hello to me!!!
2/24/2003 18:02	Patty Boyle	My brother-in-law, Tom Jepson was Rhiannon's cousin	My heart & prayers are with all of her loving family & friends.
I had the pleasure of meeting Rhiannon & Bryan this past summer at my nephew's college graduation party (Brandon Jepson.) She was a darling young lady and I was so impressed by her comfort with adults and her outgoing personality. I was surprised when she told she was only 13.
I pray that The Lord brings all of you peace & comfort as you deal with this tragedy. You now have a Very Special Angel watching over you.
Love, Patty Boyle
2/24/2003 18:14	Dylan Thalya	Friend from school	I'll miss you 4eva. You were always nice to me and everyone else.....
Your smile will always be remembered.

My only direct memories of Rhiannon are from when I volunteered at Roosevelt when she was in third grade. She was a precocious, vivacious child with an impish grin. She would always greet me with a big hug and an even bigger smile. I can think of no better way to remember someone! :o)

In orchestra with her last year,saw her on the bus I never knew rhiannon that well,but she always seemed to be in her own little happy world and nothing brought her down.On the bus, people would make fun of her and she would jujst stand up for herself and make light of the moment while I sat in my little corner, talking to my friends, and regretting not saying anything in her defense. She always seemed to have friends all over, alot of them I had no idea who they were. She seemed not to mind what reputation was, it seemed as if it wasn't even a word in her vocabulary.

I give my sincere sorrows to her family

Rhiannon, sweetheart, You will always be loved and remembered. Your love for all that knew you was wonderful. To all her friends and family, You will always be in my prayers. never forget all that hold you dear and love you. I loved you like you were my family instead of a friend. I love you sweetheart, I will never forget you.

When I was over at my dad and stepmom's she came over to play with my sister ashley and it was my 4th time seeing her and I didn't know her verry well, and visa-versa, and when she saw me, She was like, SHIRELLE!!!! And wraped her arms around me and said she loved me. that and her love for my sister and animals. Fly with god and the eagle, and your heart will soar!

We are both upset about her death. Rhiannon worked at the ECC(Evergreen Christian Center) with Allison and has been keeping a smile on her face whenever she was doing something she enjoyed.

2/24/2003 18:23	Megan Comer &Allis	Megan: Former Babysitter, Former neighbor, old friend Friend of	The sorrow of her loss is spreading fast and by fast I mean all of the schools from here to Canada have heard about it by now. It is so great that people that you dont even know sign this book wishing you lots of love and blessings and that she may rest in peace.	Megan: Her smile. It was so beautiful and so cheerful Allison: The way she worked with all the children at the ECC. It was really great to see how great she was with them.
2/24/2003 18:25	Jeff Laramie	Father	:Sorry for your loss	her smiles

Rhiannon will always be in my heart and i will never ever forget her and her bright smile that she always had on each and every day! Every one will miss her in many many different ways. I just fill really bad that we have lost some one so joyful and friendly as she was. She always had the time to say hello or even good-bye to people she didnt even know very well and to people she did know. Rhiannon is probably lookin down right now and hoping that every one is alright. She will be one of the best angels up there because she always was friendly to poeple. I think she wants us to be happy and only remember the good times that we had with her other then the bad times because even though there are some bad times with her there are probably more good ones then bad. She always brighten up my day when i was sad. She always gave me a hug when i saw her down the halls. We all miss ya girl!! you will be in my heart for ever!!! Love ya lots girlie!!

close and best friends

All the times we were together

this is not the time
Mine eyes do not weep,

but my love doth seek your side as shelter.

May your head not wonder,
in
the shadow of sorrow.
And now may your foot catch leave upon an unseen path.
You at this time, live but are dead.
Your days are your nights,

for now they shall stay.
But let not tragedy
devour your soul as well, let go of questions that can not be answered
And let a higher power
show you the light.

My
sweet aunt, torture yourself not, for still you be a mother.
Love thy other offspring, cherish
the ones closest to you always,
They always have been there for you,
?tis your turn to be there for Him.
Life is not as short, nor as long as we make it.
An ending accompanies every beginning.
Just as a poem some lives are shorter than others.

Your angel is not gone,
in
fact closer to you now than ever.
She watches over you now,
don?t let her down.
Let
strength be your crutch, let bravery and honor
be your guide.
Curse not the father who now pampers your baby.

Be not afraid, just aware of life.
Let hands of love hold you now, they are never to be weakened.

May you learn of the life that

Rhiannon was my cousin, and forever I shall love her.

My favorite memory, would have to be the few times I have seen Rhiannon. While our family was never really close she always greeted me with a most welcome embrace, and I will never forget that love she shared with me no matter how distant our relationship was, Family was a bond that she saw as indestructible.

2/24/2003 19:31	mikaela cox	Was a good friend of her in kindergarten @ ECS(evergreen christian school) in Miss Smith's class	I only knew Rhiannon for one short year but during that year I got a feel for who she was. She came into the classroom with a smile on her face and a great attitude. Rhiannon was always happy and could lift anyone up when they were feeling down. I am dealing with the loss of my Grandmother as well and I know that you just have to think about where they are now; Rhiannon is in a place where there is no sadness or tears, no sin or crime, she is in a place where the streets are paved with gold but most of all she is praising God. Her memory will live on forever	Play blocks with her in Miss Smith's room.

I would never suspect her to die. Right before the break Rhiannon told me to have a great break and she would see me when the break was over, little did I know she would not be there to see me. I feel the pain of losing a good friend forever. I'm sorry for her family that they have to go through so much grief. Thanks for being a great friend Rhiannon.	She would always stand up for me when someone picked on me. Thanks Rhiannon for doing that for me.

Our prayers are with you.
forever cherish your memory, and your numerous fine qualities shall ever be held dear:
Your radiant smile, and compassionate nature; your gentle touches, spontaneous hugs, and generous kind words.
Music was in your soul.
Your melodic sounds continually embraced any beings who elected to hear:
Resonating
hummed notes, rat-a-tat- tats of a pencil, or tapping of toes;
songs on your lips, and caressing strings with a bow.
With an open heart, you drew others in.
You rallied for the down-trodden without prejudice or fear
Loyally defending family and friends, bolstering mortals in pain; loving God and all His creatures, be they great or small.
You had forward vision while your values and beliefs remained steadfast.
Your
design for your future was clear: Pursuing goals, often diverging with curiosity and creativity,
moving toward your dreams . . .
without losing sight of important things along the way.
Though your time
with us was fleeting, your legacy will remain.
Our worldly lives are better because you were
Now you illuminate heaven with your smile. And, as you traverse paths of gold, you gather dojo with her happy you made this site for Rhiannon

she was allways ready to tell everyone that she was right and she could prove it. one time
I pressed my luck with her about how a word was spelled and she took me right to the dictionary and proved it that she was right.

Went to school with her at Reeves.

I really didn't get to know her well though Rhiannon was in a few classes with me last year, and very few this year. The way I remember Rhiannon was happy, witty, sweet, kind, and funny. She was ALWAYS smiling, she kinda seemed to glow, one of the type of people to cheer you up when you were down. That's a great quality to have and Rhiannon tried to share it with everyone. Rhiannon was full of excitement. She was a huge addition to our school, wether you knew her or not. Rhiannon is in a great place and her place on earth will always be remembered, I am sorry to all her family and friends but we should appreciate the time she spent with us here on earth, and know she is watching us from above, smiling down.

I had heard earlier that day that something had happened to a skier from a friend of mine and I didnt even think in the world that it would be a friend of mine. I'm soooooo sorry that this had to happen to her... I didnt even get time to let her ride my horses like i wanted to. I thought it would be fun to give her lessons this summer. I still cant believe that she is gone... I don't think i will ever be able to get used to the fact that she wont be coming over Friday or Saturday nights to watch movies with me anymore. And Dave and Bryan, if there is anything I can do to help you guys... give me a call and I will be right over to help. So please note that.

I only met Rhiannon like 3 times. The first one was many years ago at a family reunion, and it took me a while to get her name right. (Brianna? Rhianna? oh, Rhiannon!) The 2nd time was 2 christmases ago, when I really met her. I thought she was a lot older than 12. We talked about all sorts of stuff, here & I & Brian, and had a lot of laughs and a lot of gum-popping. We spent a long time figuring out how we are related (she's my 2nd cousin, once removed). This was right before she really got into Lord of the Rings, and one of my presents from an aunt was a Lord of Rings calendar, and I gave her a page with a close up of Frodo, because she thought he was gorgeous (and I agree). The last time was this summer at my brother's graduation. She came into the room, and I smiled and called her name, and there was a big hug. I thought about her all the time, and tried very hard to get hold of a Lord of the Rings movie poster to give her for christmas. Last I heard from her was when she called me to thank me for it.
The news last thursday hit me like a ton of bricks. The shock hasn't worn off. Just the other night I went to a Lord o' Rings convention, which I'm sure she would've loved, and at dinner my table gave a toast in her honor.
I have a theory on why she went to heaven so soon. She was such an angel on earth, so	At that christmas, we figured that Rhiannon is the only person that, if stranded on a desert island with me, would never ever grow tired of me.
2/24/2003 22:57	Lavinia Lengele	go to school with Bryan and was a good friend with her--saw her everyday on the bus	Rhiannon was a very good friend of mine. She always greeted me with a smile and she always saved me a seat. She will be greatly missed. My family and I are praying for you guys and if there is anything we can do please let us know. She touched my life in a way I can't explain. She was so special and so talented. Riding the bus and going through the day just won't be the same without her.	When Bryan and I were in the fifth grade my brother and I had a halloween party. Rhiannon came with Bryan and when we were bobbing for apples one of Bryan's friends, who was dressed as a cheerleader, dunked her head into the water. She stood up quickly and shouted, "That's not very lady-like!"

2/24/2003 23:23 Jordan Thompson (Jc Dojo)	Rhiannon was always happy when we were younger she used to wear dresses all the time and we would tease her about it but she was always ready to talk our friendly teasing Rhiannon was the one who taught me to always smile and find the good in every thing and every one she will be sorry missed and she touched many lives

Love you baby	My favorite memory of Rhiannon was her blue belt promotion her whole family came and she fought quit strongly she was probably fighting to the end

2/24/2003 23:35 Alisha Finch	Friend of the family	Although I never knew her as well as I could have, I loved her just the same. She brightened up a room with her smiles, laughs, and hugs. She definitely had a loving spirit that was shown to everyone. I love her for her everything that she brought to this world; her music, her love, her passion, and her enthusiasm. She will be greatly missed by many people, but we will always have our memories of her. For the Miller family, if you need ANYTHING at all make sure to call me, I know you have my number. It does not matter what time or day, if you need something all you have to do is call. I am a very good listener, and I'm pretty sure I have a good shoulder to cry on. (Ask Kirsten)	Many, but the one that comes to mind is the time she told me she wanted elf ears. Everyone laughed, but I thought it was cute. She was young, but she knew what she wanted. I never knew her to take no for a final answer, which in most cases was the best decision.

2/24/2003 23:36 Deb Kunkler	Personal friend of Dave, Bryan, and Rhiannon	It has been a joy and a privilege to have known such a special and unique person. I have never met any child who was so much "her own person". She would light up the room with her smile and cheerful nature. I will always cherish her "unconditional love" and the sunshine that she has brought to my heart. I will miss her so much.	Rhiannon and I dancing and her singing to me. In the mornings before school Rhiannon did not like to have her hair brushed. She had many excuses of why she couldn't have it brushed but one of my favorites was that she may have a "fainting spell."

Every morning on the way to reading, Rhiannon would stop in the hall to show me her outfit of the day. She was a fabulous dresser! Then Isaac would come by, and the two would walk off chatting away.

As shocking as it was to hear the sad news of the loss of Rhiannon, my heart was more at ease knowing she was doing something "exciting".....something she loved doing. May we all get that kind of an exit. My heart goes out to her family. They obviously loved her so much.

Watching Rhiannon build her "Hooverville" shanty with her team the Thursday before the break. Her individual style, her frank opinions during our class discussions, and her zest for life were always fun things to observe.

Dave, Bryan, : Rhiannon was so tender hearted and sensitive. She always had a smile on her face. She loved life, people, and animals. For the short time she was here she spread a lifetime of love that we will never forget.
We feel blessed to have been able to know her. She was an "Earth Angel."
At Connie & Vance's wedding, dressed in a fancy dress she greeted the wedding guests with a jar full of bugs that she had gathered on her hands and knees in the dirt. She proceeded to tell everyone each bug's name.
That same day, she found a stray dog that she promptly named "Ceasar". She was so worried that the dog wouldn't have a home. Now, 4 1/2 years later, Ceasar still lives with us and rides to work with Bob everyday.

needed her or just needed a friendly face. I know that she will be remembered by everyone who knew everything everyone is writing she would smile at all of the good friends and memories.

My love goes to her family.

Once when I was hurt on the playground
she led me to the nurse's office with her arm around me. She wouldn't let anyone near me.
She reminded me of a protective mother. I think she felt this way about most of her friends.

2/25/2003 1:02 MYRA CLEVENGER		AS A PARENT OF 2 CHILDREN, I COULD NOT EVEN IMAGINE, MY STOMACH FEELS YOUR PAIN THOUGH. YOU ALL WERE SO LUCKY TO HAVE HER FOR 13 LOVING YEARS, I KNOW YOU WERE ALL CUT SHORT, BUT GOD NEEDED HER MORE IN HIS CASTLE, JUST REMEMBER THAT ONE DAY YOU WILL SEE YOUR ANGEL AGAIN AND SHE WILL BE AT THE GOLDEN GATES WITH ARMS WIDE OPEN. OUR HEARTS GO OUT TO ALL OF YOU-	THE ONLY MEMORY OF RHIANNON I HAVE IS THE BEAUTIFUL SMILE ON THE FRONT PAGE OF THIS WONDERFUL WEBSITE.

5 of 13--- Far too short a time for such a treasure to live, in 13 years she left an impact on more people than most do in a lifetime, that smile, oh that smile, it was a great one and the cool thing is everyone noticed it, what a smile. I was skiing with her at the time she died and I saw it happen, and no matter what I do it just plays over and over again, like a bad dream, I did everything I could to help her, I felt so helpless, me the big strong brother always protecting her from guys and stuff like that, but I couldn't protect her then and there, I hope you know sis I tried I really did, and I still am always thinkin about you and am still lovin ya, i couldnt concentrate in school today no matter how hard I tried all i could think about was how ill never see your smile when i get home from school, or hear you play cello again. I try to hide it but im hurting for you. everyone is being so nice in school 2 me thanx, i needed it. sis, my precious baby sister, i'm still thinkin about you, and i love you with all my heart and nothing and nobody will ever take your place. when we swam with the dolphins in the bahamas, she was soooooo happy, and even though she was the animal nut she let me hug it for the picture, she was so giving, we can all learn from her, again im thinkin of you sis, luv ya goodnight.

Brother,
always and

because you knew of Gods great love. Matt Came in my room the other morning when he stayed the night and told me that Pastor Robby told him that Rhiannon would be very proud of him because the week before Matt had excepted Jesus into his life Rhiannon had done the same thing. I was filled with joy to hear this. Then we went on talking about her and how much she will be missed. I don't know if she knew it but she had grown a warm spot with in my heart within the last many years. I looked forward to seeing her at school next year as I did my student teaching at Reeves next fall. Her warmth, smile and encouragement I looked forward to having it be a part of my days. Now when I think of that there will be no memory, but emptiness of what will never be. It hurts!!! However I know she looked forward to seeing me there to and that encourages me and gives me strength. Because of her I know I will succeed. She was so great with my nephews and all kids. Over the last few years as I have gone to college I have came back and seen her grow so much. It completely amazes me, and though I may have never told her in person I will say it now, I love you Rhiannon. I will miss you forever!!! Your smile and playfulness will never be forgotten. My heart and prayers goes out to the whole family every night. I listen to you!!!

My favorite memory of Rhiannon was over this last summer. I believe that it was at my grandma's birthday. She had taken my hat like she liked to do, and with the boys they were playing keep away from me. Soon enough Rhiannon was running out side in the barn, and through the woods. The boys had changed over to my side by this time and we were all following her. We ran through trees, sticker bushes, brush, and on to trails I hadn't been on since I was about her age. In the end I got my hat back like I always did and

...and when I read it recently I was amazed at how perfect it described you, as it expresses everything I want to say (but much better than I could ever say it):

". . .we give thanks to God for her sense of joy and for the way she gave so much to so many people. Lord, we thank You for her life that touched us all and for all those memories of her that we treasure. We give thanks for those qualities and strengths that endeared her to us. For her radiant and vibrant personality. For her ability to communicate warmth and compassion. For her ringing laugh and above all for her readiness to identify with those less fortunate. We pray for those most closely affected by her death. For her family, especially for her father, mother, brother and grandparents. Lord we thank You for the precious gift of family life. For all human relationships and for the strength we draw from one another. Have compassion on those for whom this parting brings particular pain and the deepest sense of loss. Casting their cares on You, may they know the gentleness of Your presence and the consolation of Your love. Give them comfort, renew their faith and strengthen them in the weeks and months ahead. . . and now, abide faith, hope, love -- these three. But the greatest of these is LOVE. As we reflect on her

Rhiannon, you have inspired me endeavour to fill my life with more love and laughter, more patience and more understanding. You will be in my heart always. Love, Myla

Dave, we both share the common link of being fathers. Everything that has happened is still so unreal for us all. I want so desperately to reach out to you and help comfort you in this hour of need but realize that in these situations, sometimes a chance to reflect in a quiet moment of your own can mean the world. just know that i am here when needed day or night.

The summer that Rhiannon, Dustin and John built their fort in our hedges and used Heathers' flower garden for the entrance! I remember taking a few butt chewings to allow them their fun... I'm glad I did.

You helped put that big smile on her face. She could not have enjoyed so much without you by her side. Even though she is not here physically, she is with you always, reminding you to SMILE and she loves you. She was a great friend and schoolmate. She was nice, fun, and funny. Whenever My spirits were down she would smile at me and it would bring my spirits up.	I remember when Rhiannon would show us something new she learned from her martial arts class and Bryan was her victem! LOL Another is how she would chase her cous Fred around to get a kiss. She would catch him of course with those long legs of hers. Oh he would scream like a girl yelling no. She wouldn't stop until we would tell her to let him up.LOL

Last December. Her lesson just after the recital. It was just before Christmas and just after a lot of hard work so we had a more relaxed and fun lesson. I pulled out my electric cello and introduced her to it. She was so excited being able to play loudly and make a whole bunch of new noises. She had a natural affinity towards it and wasn't intimidated like most tend to be. I had plans of building her a pair of pickups she could use on her own cello. Rhiannon was so excited to be able to play electric cello with her dad.

20 years ago, I wrote a song, and when I compare the lyrics to Rhiannon and the Light that shone through her, it seems as though the lyrics were meant for her:

"How can I tell you

What your smile does for me?
The world's a warmer place
when I see your pretty face."
"Because you shine like the sun on a cold November day;
Lighting up my world, coloring the gray;
Then you cool me like rain on an afternoon in May;
You shine like the sun on a cold November day."

Dave-
My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. Although I didn't know Rhiannon, after reading through the web site, and attending the memorial service yesterday, I feel the sorrow of never getting to know your truly beautiful and incredible daughter. God Bless.

I did not know Rhiannon, but only through what Sarah tells me of her and through the memorial service you held for her last night. Sarah honored Rhiannon by wearing her favorite color to school on Tuesday. It is such a shock and I tear up every time I think of your loss. What a beautiful, beautiful girl. What a shame we wait until someone dies before we say nice things about them, or wish we had been friendlier to them. I will pray for your family that you will have peace in your hearts and minds (especially you Bryan, after reading your entries in this guest book...peace...)

Big hug for family of Rhiannon.

I wish I had one, but I guess it will be the cello standing by her casket.

Loving

i said goodbye for the last time last night, and as I looked at you it wasn't you, but just a shell, you didn't look like you, no smile, no laugh and no big hug to greet me. I was going to be a senior at Olympia high school, when she was a freshmen. I planned on being the big brother, keepin guys away as best I could, but now i can't,that makes me hurt inside. I am going snowboarding this weekend and will think only of you, and I know you will keep me safe, and I think you would want me to snowboard again, because you wanted me to be happy. I am also going to go back to Mission Ridge soon I have decided. I'm goin to make you a cross and ride the lift and board to the tree you hit and put it there and that will be m tribute to you sweet heart, you impacted so many lives, over 560 people signed your guestbook at the service lat night,WOW, miss popular. thank you to all my friends especially Candice Chris Trisha d.j. joey and kelli, for bein there for me, luv u guys. to rhiannon, on feb 19th next year josephine and I are gonna go boarding in your memory at mission and we are goinna sprinkle rose pedals all over the run that u died on, love ya and im still thinkin about u always,my baby sis.

when i tried to teach her how to play basketball, for obvious reasons,and she hated it,we had fun still though and even though she hated it she played it with me when i asked her to, what a giving soul, I love you always and forever.

2/26/2003 17:06	Becky MacKenzie	Cello Friend	one, I was scared. I wanted to meet friends, but most were shy and didnt want to talk much. Finally, a girl walks in the door. A very tall girl, she looked 15 (This was about a year or two ago) We hit it off fast, we couldnt stop talking about what we liked and had in common. I loved horses, she loved horses, I played the cello, as did she, I wanted to be in Martial Arts...She already was. She was my "Cello Friend" My first one, she was as energetic as I am and was. We gave each other our numbers as to talk and meet up again, but fogot to switch them and just got our own numbers. For me, Im not very ogagnized so I tryed to get her number, but life and childhood got in the way. We finally got each others numbers.....still both of us had things going on. WE totally understood each other and the circumstances. I saw her about a week and a half ago, I was at my cello lesson about to go inside the car, when I see my "Cello Friend" Rhiannon! "Hello Rhiannon! How are you?! Sorry I havnt called you!" Rhiannon, "Oh its ok, things have been going on, I have your number by my bed!" "Cool! I will try and call you this week, if I can get your number from my mom or somewhere, lol" (I laughed) Rhiannon, "ok! I am going to be going skiing soon, so still call!" Me, Wow! skiing! ok, have fun!"
That was the last time I talked to her. I never did find her number, I really	My favorite moment with her was every minute. She made me feel welcome, she rocks! and will always have a place in my heart and my cello.
2/26/2003 17:47	Angela Grable	friend	Rhiannon was great! She almost always had a smile on her face. She was fun to be around.	I don't have a favorite because its too hard to choose.

Bryan, I cannot explain how proud I am of you, I went to the service yesterday for many reasons, but I wanted to be there to help you because I know you needed friends, So Chris's mom brought me early because my mom could not! I came wanting to give you hugs when they were needed a big pat on the back to try to help you through the night and just to give my love and support. The reason I am so proud is because YOU stayed sooooo strong something that I think anyone wouldnt be able to do. Instead of me comforting you, you comforted me. You have the heart of gold and are sooo strong. Rhiannon had a wonderful brother and she was always protected by him, and now shes protecting him. She was an angel down her and will be one forever. The slide show was amazing seeing the great pride she took in everything she did and the confidence she had in herself. Every teenager wants that but I think shes the only one who HAD that confidence. Bryan I love your ideas of the way your going to contribute your love to your sister. Shes going to be there with you snowboarding this weekend in your heart and beside you. Rhiannon you had the heart of god and I thank you for the example you set everywhere and the contagious smile that everyone now notices. Thank you for your love and beautiful 13 years of being a

Rhiannon was a friend I met in preschool
I remember her in 1st or 2nd grade. she just never could stop giving to people she met. When I heard what happened I could not believe or understand it.
She will always be in our hearts and mind but like a cut or scratch will leave a scar she took a piece of all of our hearts that day, and no matter how hard we try we will never heal back to being the same as we were before this horrible tragedy, we will have a scar but no one will fear to show it.

When we were visiting Rhiannon we couldnt feel her life or essence anymore. That is what hurt me most. Whenever i saw her I could always tell her essence was around. But now.....i cant.
Dave, the slideshow was perfect. The music fit it just right. The song "Rhiannon" fit perfectly. I hear that was her favorite song because it had her name in it. :-) It was so sweet. Her casket as absolutely beautiful and fit her so well. The cello up on stage was beautiful as well. Mom had to bring a whole box of kleenex with us and half of them were gone by the time we left. I couldnt stop crying. My heart was so very broken about this terrible loss. She was a very very wonderful girl to be around. This was one funeral i DID not expect to come to, not for another 85 years. She had great amibition and was a really smart girl. Yes she was boy crazy but thats her being a normal 13 year old girl. All girls go through that stage. Its called "growing up". It is so sad that we wont get to see Rhiannon mature into the beautiful girl we all knew she would turn out to be. I wanted to hear her play cello, i wanted to see her make it into the Symphany Orchestra at school. I hear she was a great cellist. She probably could have made it into	I was at school today thinking about all the games her and I use to play. There isnt 5 minutes in a day I dont go without thinking about Rhiannon. Her smile, her beauty, her sense of humor, and most of all her height! She was a tall one and would have been a great basketball player if she had been into that kind of thing. ;-)

She would have been really awesome in music cause it looked like she was really really dedicated to that and she enjoyed it very much so.
News of Rhiannon has spread around all of Washington and I am sure that everybody sends you love and prayer to help you get through this time of mourning.

Again, we are here for you and always will be.

Coming over, even in the pouring rain, just to talk for five minutes before her dojo lesson or her cello practice!

Rhiannon
Hey-I am so sad that I didnt know you better. I am mad at my self SO much for not getting to know you, because now that I think about it, if this hadn't happened we probably would have been great friends in the future. Sure, last year I talked to you alot on the bus, and we laughed about your height and name (rhododendron! lol luv ya), but I really wish I would have got to know you better. I think about you literally 24 seven-I cried my eyes out for the first time last night since your death, and I just can't stop thinking about you and how nice you always were to me, and how I just kind of moved along to the next person without thinking about you and becoming friends with you-it was really something I should have done, and im so so so mad at myself for not doing that. Rhiannon-I'll always think about you and I'll ALWAYS be mad at my self for not getting to know you more, but I promise to become friends with you in heaven, wich I know will be in a long time, but it WILL happen, I promise!!! well until then, see ya later.

2/27/2003 20:24	Cassandra Holmes	Friend	Hey Rhiannon,
All I can say is that I regret not getting to know you better. From what I did know you could get along with anyone, anytime. You had a lot of people who cared about you and I guarantee you that they all felt the same way. I wish you happiness.
Cassie Holmes	I would sometimes sit at the lunch table with her at school and she lit up the room. Whenever anyone felt bad about something she was right there to console them. It was great having someone who cared that much around.

My first memory of Rhiannon is when she was about 6 or 7 years old. We were at a Roosevelt Little League Baseball game where Charlie and Bryan were on the same team. Each time there was a home game we would bring our little terrier dog, Bullet to the field. Rhiannon loved animals and would always ask if she could walk Bullet. She would walk him back and forth from the bleachers to the porta-potty for almost the entire game. Bullet loved Rhiannon too because she gave him a lot of love and affection. Later when we became neighbors, she would come and visit Bullet. She would play in our back yard and jump on our huge trampoline, or I would find her climbing the cherry tree (that used to scare me) because I was afraid she would get hurt. Rhiannon enjoyed these things so much. She was never inhibited to do anything that she wanted to do. She had a great appreciation for everything. Every time she saw me she would give me a hug and say I love you. That is not a common thing for someone to be so honest and down to earth. Everyone saw how special she was, if she didn't know it on earth, I am sure it is being revealed to her in heaven.

2/27/2003 20:36 Robin Canahan Family friend, old neighbor, adopted aunt | Rhiannon had a true appreciation of life, creatures and experiences, big and small.

2/27/2003 21:51 Keith Padgett co-worker of her Father | When I lost my brother someone told me it wasn't like losing your keys, because like losing your keys you don't know where they're at. But You know where Rhiannon is, she's in heaven in loving arms awaiting the day to be with you again. Being a Dad with children my heart just dropped at the news and I cried. My prayers and thoughts are with you Dave, Rhiannon, and family.

whene we where all at my grandma jimmy's house and she wanted to setup her animal toys in my toy box and i sed no and we faught for a wile and then i sed well it's mine and she crossed her arms and i could tell she still had a smile on.

Friend, mentor,
student...

Dearest Rhiannon,
 I miss you kiddo. I known I didn't really see you on a day-to-day basis, but you were (and still are) a presence in my heart. I loved working with you at the dojo. I loved knowing that I was helping to shape your kindred spirit into and mature (and studious ;p) young woman. Even when I chided you about talking too much or not doing your homework, I was always uplifted by your warmth and your liveliness.
 I went to your funeral yesterday. I was seeking closure, but it just didn't come. I was glad to be able to support your family. It's so hard though. When I saw you sleeping there, so peaceful in your satin bed, I couldn't help but cry. And cry and cry. All the time I looked at you I kept thinking that if I just waited long enough you would wake up. You would sit up and give me your famous smile, so pretty with your bright eyes and pearly whites. I'm sorry that my crying couldn't wake you to life. But then again, where you sleep now, you are happy, I think. Why would I take you from that beautiful place back to our strange and shadowy little planet? I am selfish, I suppose. I can not bear to part with you. Please, watch over and care for me, won't you, and I'll always keep a memorial for you in my heart.

Love Always,
McKinley Paul

I remember one day that you were sad. You felt alone. Middle School was hard, you felt unconfident. Kids were unkind, as they often are. I hated to see you unhappy. So we went downstairs and sat on the mat, I told you about my experience, let you talk. In the end you smiled. I felt like we really connected that day. I felt like you wre my little sister. I wish we'd had more days like that.

I unfortunately did not know Rhiannon very well but from what I have heard about her she really did seem like a wonderful person, and I can understand why god would want her closer to him because she truly was an angel on earth.
Her always having a smile on her face and being nice no matter what.

I didn't know Rhiannon. I heard about this from one of her cousins. I've read the whole guestbook, and it doesn't take much brains to know that Rhiannon was obviously loved by everyone she knew. She sounds like a wonderful person. Her family and friends have my condolences, and my admiration for being able to help each other through this.

My little brother is 13, same age as Rhiannon. From reading what Bryan has written, I know I would feel much the same about my sweetly annoying little brother. I don't know what I would do without him to keep me at a healthy level of insanity. It's hard to imagine him suddenly being gone from my life.

You are all so brave

God bless.

BRYAN! THIS IS FOR YOU! One afternoon in Orchestra Rhiannon was talking really loud. Well I turned around to tell her to be quite so we wouldn't get into trouble. I turned around and she was scratching something into one of our cellos. I asked what she was doing. This is what she said:
"Im scratching my best friends name in... hes the best." Well later that day i looked the cello to see what she had written. It was your name. She scratched your name into her cello. You were very special to her. She loved you alot. :)

2/28/2003 19:47 Donna Knutkowski	Aunt of Kristian Parten	I was so saddened to hear of this loss that has come upon your family. My prayer for all of you is that you would hold tightly to Jesus as He can and will give you comfort and peace which does pass all understanding. I know!
2/28/2003 19:55 Kate Cook	Reeves Staff Member	I came across a quote today that sums up the spirit of Rhiannon. "Let the world know you as you are, not as you think you should be, because sooner or later, if you are posing, you will forget the pose and then where will you be?" Fanny Brice Rhiannon was so REAL! I loved how she had the ability to support her friends while being totally honest. They could listen to her advice because they knew she gave it with love. Her spirit was/is large. We will all miss the whirlwind of smiling energy she represented!	Rhiannon hugging a friend in need, Rhiannon dancing around the track with her friends, Rhiannon rushing to her next class while greeting everyone and carrying on a conversation with the person next to her. Rhiannon sparkling on her birthday when her special surprises were delivered! Rhiannon's enthusiasm for every new experience. Rhiannon lived life with gusto and honesty. We should all learn to live to the fullest and love well as she did. She is missed!
2/28/2003 20:39 Clarice M. Clouse	Grandma G-G	My love and Prayers are with you - Nadine,Don, Bryan, Dave and Laura. Rhiannon was a Gift sent from God to Bless all with whom she came in contact. Dave,

I still have no words for what has happened, I think of Rhiannon all the time and when I look at Brittany the pain becomes so much for me and I can only imagine how it must be for you. I just need you to know we are missing her very much and we are here for you if you need anything.

One time Rhiannon was over at our house playing with Brittany and Brandon and for whatever reason she felt it in her to drop her pants and pee in our back yard. After I was finished laughing my ass off, I had to tell her that that just wasn't ok. She smiled and said OK Mrs.Embry. I never laughed so hard as I did that day. Even being a little bad she still made us laugh and smile. She truly is/was a wonder to behold.

To Rhiannon- I want you to know that I'm sorry I didn't get to know you better. Those 300 miles in between us didnt exactly make it easy. I guess I just figured I would have the time when I moved over there. That was a mistake. I remember the first time I met you. It was New Years Eve 1999. You couldn't sit still and you had a constant smile on your face. Over the past year or so every time I visited I could see a difference in you. You were maturing, growing up so fast. It was amazing to watch. I want you to know that I have learned from this. I have learned not to waste opportunities with the people you care about. I missed my opportunity with you and I will not let that happen again. It's only now that you're gone, that I am finding out how much we had in common and that makes me sad. However I know that we will all see you again and that makes me happy. You have fun up there with the angels! :-)
To Brian- The things that you are writing to Rhiannon are beautiful and they really touch my heart. I can tell you loved her very much. I know she's reading every single entry and she will be watching over you from now on. Don't forget that Richie and I are here if you need anything, anything at all.
My thoughts and prayers are with everybody who cared for Rhiannon.

I remember Rhiannon leading Matt and Jesse around in the backyard at Richie's house and then they were all screaming because the coyotes started howling. That was hilarious. I also remember Rhiannon at the bay on the Fourth of July waving around a sparkler.

Rhiannon always wanted to check in with me to make sure her brother was being good for me. She adored her brother and looked up to him with pride.

We have fun and pick some black berries. My best favorite,One day, We have been played on the paddle boat together. We always laughing. We watch a movies and talking.

To David,Laura,Bryan,Nadine,Don and all of the rest of Rhiannon's loving family.

All the wonderful things said about Rhiannon on this beautiful memorial are so overwhelming and touching.

She didn't come by these qualities so eliquently spoke of by so many who loved her without the input from all of you.

David my brother you gave her the ability to look for the good in everyone and everything.

Laura my sweet sister you gave Rhiannon her free spirit.

Bryan my nephew. The two of you were a team. She will alaways be with you.

Nadine and Don. The diversity that Rhiannon had amassed in her short life from music to martial arts to her love of animals. You kept her busy and involved. God bless you both.

When I look at anyone of you I will always see a small piece of Rhiannon. Because of all of you Rhiannon will live forever.

I want to thank all of you for allowing me to be a part of your family.

I humbly thank you for the honor of being uncle Dale to Rhiannon and Bryan.

I'll always miss you Rhiannon.

With love and respect,

I am so sorry for your loss. What a tragedy. I just opened Myla's message

Your healing is very important-if you can find a book "Surviving the Loss of a Love" it would be helpful...One full year of seasons and holidays will pass before you can start to say goodbye, but the grief will be with you for years, so make it a friend and let it be.

I come on here everyday to read the new listings and im amazed about what people right, everything is alike meaning we all notice the same qualaties she had. When I first got the news of this website I was like everyone is writing smile, and that was the first day and not much had been writting yet, i thought people were copying! sorry! but then i kept reading everyday and I noticed that its what everyone said, not just 3 people or 4 everyone! this shows that Rhiannon had her way of touching us in her own way, she didnt have to say words or do anything except smile, she could change a life with that smile and its amazing how many lifes she changed! thanks girl! When I look at your pictures I notice how contagious your smile is! after I look at how happy you are I look up and see you the same way in heaven and smile back at you! every day I try to pass that smile on to others! I regret not knowing you better I only met you at gatherings for bryan and I, but even though we didnt talk or hang out, you touched me and till this day i am thankful for that! Ill miss you and so is everyone else! we love you!

Kirsten and I went to visit you today, but I'm sure you already knew that. Thanks for holding off the rain for us while we were there. I hope you like the flowers we gave you. They weren't your colors but they are really pretty.

We talked about how we still can't believe that you are not here with us anymore physically. But you will always be with all of us in our hearts. You will always be young and you will always be beautiful.

We love you. Bye for now. We will write you again soon. speedy9290@msn.com	When she played the cello at Uncle Steve's and my wedding.

3/8/2003 1:53	Myla friend	Dear Rhiannon,

Tonight we officially dedicated the Inspirational Quotes site to you. What started out as a tiny collection has been viewed millions of times by people all over the world. I know that people who will visit will be inspired by you, and hope that this tribute, will be one more way to help to keep your memory alive.

The dedication says: "This website is dedicated to Rhiannon Miller, who has inspired me to endeavour to fill my life with more love and laughter, more patience and more understanding. She exemplified the meaning of many of the inspirational quotes you'll find within this site. To be able to touch as many people's lives in as many ways as she did at 13 years of age is an amazing legacy. Visit her website to learn more about this remarkable young lady."	You will be in my heart always.
 Love, Myla

3/10/2003 13:30	Diane	No personal relationship.	For her family and friends: I am so sorry for your deeply personal and painful loss. The website you have created is beautiful and obviously love filled. She was blessed to have you in her world as you were blessed to have her in yours. May God bless and watch over each of you. May you be comforted in your time of grief and pain. You are loved beyond our human comprehension. May that love help you to heal. My prayers are with each of you. Always in my heart. Take the time to smile at a stranger, it just might make their day. Rhiannon

3/11/2003 14:46	Erin	adopted Aunt	missing you slide down a rainbow for me baby :)	She was around 2 years old, she wanted to watch a movie, I asked, what movie? all she would say is "The Man The Man". It took me forever to figure out, The Man Robin Hood Men in Tights.

3/12/2003 0:51	Bryan	Brother	hey baby sis, i havn't wrote in a while sorry, i have been soo busy. I heard your song the other day and it brought tears to my eyes, i miss you so much, when I come home I still expect you to be there, and in the morning on the bus you arn't there peaking back, tryin to hear what i'm sayin to my friends, i miss every little annoying and great thing abot you, i'm still thinkin about you in all that I do, love you always.	I only have 13 years worth, not even enough, she was gonna take care of me,she was the good student who was gonna be a wildlife biologist, and i miss her pushing me to be all that I could, she lived her life to the fullest. luv ya sis.
3/12/2003 1:03	Maxwell Batchelor	Friend	Rhiannon, even though I didn't know you as well as I wished I did, you were still my friend, and you always made me happy when we talked ^_^	every time she was there when I had a bad day, I just looked at that smile of hers and it made me happy and I always thought about how wonderful it is for her that she is always happy and why should I be unhappy? I...will miss you.... I will miss that wonderful smile that was always on your face whenever I saw you....

3/12/2003 15:13	Kevin Miller	Cousin	I'm sorry it took me so long to put a message on this website but i didnt know what to say. I still have a hard time believing that she is gone. i remember how if i came over and i wasnt having a good day she would always so something funny that would cheer me up. She always had a way of doing things that were annoying but in a way that it wouldnt really bug you but make you laugh. I always remember comming over and she would always be out playing in the yard with Ivy or the ducks or just by herself having fun, i dont think there was ever a time that i saw her when she wasnt happy or wasnt having fun no matter what the situation. I will miss her but i will never forget the happy years that i spent with her and the many more i will spend thinking about her. And nothing can ever take those memories away.	A few winters ago Bryan and I were out having a snowball fight in the yard and she came out and wanted to join but we wouldnt let her but she didnt give up and we finally let her play and we ended up having a really great time the three of us.
3/13/2003 14:05	Jessie Thurman	one of her close and best friends	Rhiannon,
 I still miss your smile while i go down the halls of our school. In rriort we are planting a graden with a bench for poeple can sit on of the memory of you. We still sll miss ya girl and Im hoping that you are looking down at your brotehr becasue his trying his best to keep himself happy. well girl i have to go.
Love ya girlie!!

3/13/2003 20:49	J.R. Embry	Friend	hey, I still cant believe that your gone, im used to you always coming over and playing with Britt and spending time in her room we all miss you Rhiannon.	Whenever she came over she would run up the stairs and sit on the balcony and look out the window.

3/14/2003 13:46 : Aaron Boyfriend : Well, it's been a while.... I've been trying to figure out where to go.... My life is like a funnel rite now, all it's doing is going around in circles, but those circles keep going down. She never stopped calling me Janitor Bob, I never understood that name. Somedays, I know she's going to pop up again and everything will be normal. It'll be like nothing ever happened. Then I remember she's gone. It's so weird. Everytime I saw her

3/14/2003 15:04 Kate Didn't know her personally... I heard one of Rhiannon's friends talking about this and I would just like to say how deeply sorry I am over your loss. One of my best friends died this year to cystic fibrosis. He was a star athlete and our class president and the best friend you could ask for. Rhiannon sounds like an amazing, inspirational person, and what you have all done for her is incredible. May she rest in peace.

I feel great sorrow in missing you here on earth. But I feel great joy in just having known you the short time we were allowed to have you with us. I just wish it could have been for 80 or 90 more years.

What a GREAT KID!!!

Talent, beauty, kindness, heighth, music in your heart and soul.	Dancing at her uncle's wedding, getting down and funky. Waltzing with her Dad.

Last summer we had several lengthy conversations....life, boys, etc.

Have several happy memmories of Rhiannon and Bryan playing music, watching them swim and just having fun.

I will always have a good memory of a beautiful girl; happy and full of life and promise.
3/15/2003 10:54	Karen Peacock	None	So very sorry to hear of the sad loss of this family when I came upon this website by chance. How lovely for you all though to have such wonderful memories of Rhiannon. Bryan you must miss her so much but she knows you loved her and you will be with her again one day. Look after each other and cherish all your memories. She has touched the lives of so many in such a short lifetime. God Bless
3/15/2003 13:53	Lindsay	I really don't know her, but i remember her coming into Mr. Teachout's classroom saying one of the guys off of star wars or lord of the rings was cute.	I hope u r ok!	When I said hi 2 her.

3/16/2003 2:29	Lori Lohman	family friend (Chris & Ashley's mom)	Rhiannon.....there is not a day that goes by that we dont think of you. Ashley and I went to your gravesite today. I am sure that you saw us. We felt a sense of peace..knowing that you are happy. I saw your granny a couple of days ago. She seems to be doing ok. We are going to have lunch next week. I promise to be there for her and for your dad,mom, and grandpa. They are amazing. You would be proud of them. Chris is spending the night at your dads tonight with Bryan.. He loves Bryan alot and is really looking out for him. I was sad when we went to your gravesite today, but then again it gave me some peace. I know you are happy and in a better place. You will never be forgotten. We all love you sweetie, and know you are our angel.. Love you..Lori	just seeing her happy face. She had a way of making everybody laugh and taught everyone how to enjoy life. She now taught me to live life to it's fullest and not take a second for granted. Hug and tell everyone special in your life that you love them.

3/17/2003 15:19	:Aaron	Boyfriend	I guess I'll keep writing. I could never stop anyway. I've defined my life as a crazed carnivail, and I'm trying to make it good. You was everything I ever wanted in life, then you vanished. Just like a memory that you treasure, but can never remember, so is my love for you. But I'm sure we'll be together, and as long as I live, I'll work to accomplish that. I'll never quit. You wanted me to live life to the fullest, so here I go. But I'll keep writing in your memory.	All in all, there's never a bad time when Rhiannon's around

That I'd see you fall asleep,
I would tuck you
in more tightly and pray the Lord, your soul to keep.

If I knew it would be the last time

that I see you walk out the door, I would give you a hug and kiss and call you back for one more.

If I knew it would be the last time

I'd hear your voice lifted up in praise,
I
would video tape each action and word, so I could play them back day after day.

If I knew it would be the last time,
I could spare an extra minute to stop and say "I love you,"

instead of assuming you would KNOW I do.

If I knew it would be the last time
I would be there to share your day, Well I'm sure you'll have so many more, so I can let just this one slip away.

For surely there's always tomorrow to make up for an oversight,
and we always get a second chance to make everything just right.

There will always be another day
to say "I love you,"
And
certainly there's another chance to say our "Anything I can do?"

But just in case I might be wrong,
and today is all I get,
I'd like to say how much I love you and I hope we never forget.

Tomorrow is not promised to anyone,
young or old alike,
And today may be the last chance
you get to hold your loved

3/19/2003 22:38	Jiana	friend	We never thought we would lose you, to the warm place up above,
You were so fun to have around to smile with , and to love.
You brightened every persons day, that you came in contact with,
we thought nothing so bad could happen like this. Now we all understand that this life that we live is real, and now, sadly , we all have to deal.

With how this affects us, and how we feel,
Living our lives as we think must be fit,
Your death is not the best bit,
That could be there for us,
But you have taken the bus,
And sadly, we all have to walk,
We loved to hear you talk,
And know that we love you,
No matter what you do,
Through, and through and through

I wish I can talk with you more but you re in my heart! You are very beautiful Girl! Oh, I have a Driver Education and have been learning how to driving with mom and Rob. I wish you would see me driving. Maybe, I will go see ur mom or dad, bro so I can give ur family a picture of you and me. I have to go to have dinner now. I will write to you more later. :) I love you always!!!!!!	I remember when we have fun. We went with Dad and Paulette to Ocean and look at the houses. We were going to the nice house, we were talking.. play around in the house. We went to the Ocean. It so beautiful! We were picking a grapes, she took the grapes in her shirt. We were eating. We have to go. It was happend last summer. I always remember when she is little girl, she tried to talk with me but I am deaf. She said, "Please play with me?" 			----- heaven letter via this wonderful website. You've been gone one month, one week, and two days; and, this passage of time hasn't lessened the ache in my heart. I love you and I miss you . . . I especially miss the special conversations we shared. You had insight beyond your years, honey. With few words of encouragement you could look at a negative situation in a more positive way. Actually, you've always been the essence of positiveness and caring, and I've no doubt you'll continually share your light with others.

 Shortly after you left us, Rhiannon, grandpa and I decided to create a little memorial garden, using plants we were receiving on your behalf. Today we placed a beautiful teen angel statuette in the garden. She has purple flowers in her hair and is holding a baby bird. We've ordered a fairy statuette, also. She will be sculpted with wings of metal, reaching up to metal flowers. All the metal will be enameled in pastel colors.

 We can see the garden from our living room window. Every time I look at the lovely angel I will remember your radiant smile, your tender heart, and your caring nature --- for people and for animals. Each time I look at the cute, spry fairy I'll remember your gregarious animation, your creativity, the music within you, and the joy you spread to theres nothing people can say, that makes me feel any better about not seeing you everymorning. Orchistra, has really gotten boring. And i never realized it, that every class room needs that special person, 2 wake everyone up! And although every kid is unique, you really warmed up my mornings, and many others. The valentine, that you made aaron, on friday, the last time I saw you, is my favorite time. I am very glad we spent so much time that day together. With rachel, dustin and my picture on it, giving it to aaron, really showed him how much you cared. I remember ALL DAY you were working on it, and you kept taking pictures, (there wasnt any film hun.) lol. When i left school that day, with you telling me, "see you after the brake, have bunches of fun, and give aaron the valentine, bye" i never even dreamed that i wouldnt hear you again. Aaron (cuz he loves you,) had saved messages on his cell phone of you, and i listen to them, and start crying the moment you hear your voice. God...you were so loved by many people, all i can say, is that it is unreal. I look up at the clouds...and i seriously try and find you. I know that u wont see you, but every time its sunny, i'll look up there and try to find a sign from you or something. My walls are covered in pictures of you, that ive printed out from your web site, and i've wroten all over my walls. Not one day everytime i saw her. thank-you for sharing yor story about Rhiannon...we also share your sorrow. jo

Dear Dave,
I spoke with Karen on the phone tonight and she gave me the bad news. We're so saddened by your loss, as well as the loss her Mother must be feeling. It's so hard to know exactly what to say at a time like this. Just know that you and your family are in our thoughts and prayer each day.
The web site that you made is absolutely beautiful. What a loving tribute to your dear daughter.

I didn't know this amazing child but I see her in few to many kids this day in age. I was searching for inspirational quotes and came across this page. There is a God!

I am not even sure how this tragic accident happened but as a parent I can totally understand the way you feel. Rhiannon has givin me such a good feeling this early in the morning as I sit at work. She has truly touched my heart. Dad what you wrote is so beautiful. She was blessed to have such a loving family and to know that her spirit will never die is the most wonderful gift she could have. Thank you for sharing your daughter with me.

A LOVING COUSIN

I loved her LAUGH and SMILE.

I am so touched by the love and adoration Rhiannon is remembred with. I just stumbled upon the website but ended up staying and reading and looking around and crying softly. I know what it is like to hurt and lose someone. But I am confident that she is smiling down on all of us and she is happy to missed and remebred so well. I wish all the family well and I am happy that Rhiannon is in a happy place (I can feel it, even though I didnt know her.)

May your memories of your beautiful and loving daughter, friend, granddaughter and sister live forever in your hearts.

4/15/2003 23:31 | G. Tony Rudd, Jr.

My wife and I just spent the last hour looking at your website and are going to share the story of Rhiannon with our children. We are very sorry for your loss.

4/16/2003 21:30

your legacy continues to grow, how your life has touched others and impacted people (many who never even met you) the world over. It amazes me how a medium such as the Internet, what some people might look at as a seemingly cold and impersonal media (as you would expect computers and telephone lines and bits of data to be), can really become a warm, loving place where people can come together to share memories and laughter and light. Your light. And we have, and will continue to do so, to keep your memory alive. So many wonderful, amazing people have been taken from us too soon, and we try and remember what life was like when they were here, to hold on to those memories, and we miss them terribly, and we are never the same for having lost them, believe me, I know. Today marks six years since my sister Deborah died, she was diagnosed with breast cancer in August of 1996 and died on April 19, 1997. I know how hard it is to lose a sister. I know how hard it is to lose your best friend. I still miss her -- and think of her every single day. My sister Deborah was the reason I started dabbling in design on the Internet, she loved the idea of being able to link up people from remote parts of the world (like Croatia) with other remote parts of the world (like Lacey) (my guess is that to someone

A bird that is not mine...
Three birds that belong to her
One emerald-green,
One snow-white...
One golden, flashing like a
Sunbeam through the night...
One golden, flashing like a
Sunbeam through the night...

When at first he saw her...
It seemed she had no name
She sat alone, and it seemed to him...
That the light and her face were the same...
Her hair shone...
Streamed blond and gold...
He thought..."Maybe...
I'm going insane..."

Her gown was no more Than the water could cover...
This time would not come again...
And the white mares dance...
And the Lady asks...

"Take my wisdom with you...
I shall ride...
If you kill the dark Lord of Death...
Someday, I shall be your wife...
Someday, I shall be your wife..."

And the birds are still singing...
And the song is now sweeping...
Like a silver...
A silver shimmering flood...

"For you, Rhiannon...
I will fight,
I will fight the world...
For you, Rhiannon,
I would fight...
I would fight the world...
For you are in my blood...
For you...

4/22/2003 22:06 | :Aaron Boyfriend : Hey Rhiannon. Been a while, I guess. I'm never what I'm going to say when I come here, we all know I'm no planner. That's why my future's so uncertain, but you know that I'll figure it out someday. I'll learn, huh? I'll tell you now though, I miss you a lot these days, just thinking about the wild times we had together. I love you soooo much. Bye now The first time we were together

4/23/2003 0:30 :Shannon Did not know her. : I came across this site while surfing mirrorproject.com. I just wanted to say that while I did not know Rhiannon in life, that I am deeply sorry for your loss. She was such a beautiful girl & such a wonderful person. I was brought to tears by the beautiful words of those who knew who her. I'm :terribly sorry for your loss.

Rhiannon, I heard your song today on the radio and I began to cry. Not to mention it was during my 3rd period class. But that just told me one thing, you were visiting us at Oly. The wind blew and that told me you were kissing us before you left.
I miss you so very much. I never told you this, which i regret, but I always thought of you as a baby sister that I never had. I will always remember you and cherish the times we had. I remember all the way back to the first day I met you and you gave me your pony from "My Little Ponies" You said you got it as a present but you wanted me to have it so I could "be happy when i was sad" Heh. You were so little then. I think you were about 6 or 7 years old when you gave it to me. I still have it to this very day and it is in just as great condition as it was the day you gave it to me. I think I should give her a name now. I might name her after you, since you are the one that gave her to me. Rhiannon you have opened my eyes in the ways of the world and you being gone has hit me so hard inside my heart. Everyday I hear a knock on the door I always keep thinking that it might be you coming to talk to john and dustin and make fun of them for being short. heh Keep soaring back to us for daily visits Rhiannon. Whenever I feel the wind I know its you pecking my cheek with an angels kiss.
I miss you and always will, Rhiannon.

Every memory i have of her in my head

4/24/2003 1:38 | Caroline | I never had the privledge of meeting Rhiannon. I stumbled across this site by accident tonight, and I haven't been able to leave. What an beautiful tribute to such an incredible young lady. I remember reading about her accident and my daughter, who is a first grader at Roosevelt came home talking about it one night. As a parent myself, I can only imagine the heartache you feel. Bryan, it's obvious that Rhiannon loved you very much. Please take comfort in knowing that she is in a happy place, where she can swim with the dolphins any time she wants. She will remain in your heart forever. You are all in my thoughts and prayers.

5/2/2003 23:39	KarenHaverly Friend of Dad and fellow horse lover!	Sweet Rhiannon, I was heartbroken to hear you weren't with us anymore,and felt such a sharp pain at the thought of you being gone! My faith tells me you are free and happy where you are now. I can just see you riding the meadows, wind through your hair, laughing and smiling....the sun on your face. I'm so grateful to have known you and I've thought of you often, most recently when I came across some of my old horse figurines from when I was a little girl. (I think I even gave you one once) I'm glad we shared a mutual love of horses....you reminded me so much of myself at your age. What an incredible young lady you grew to be, and though your time with us was much too short, you were well loved, and for that I'm so very happy. They say our children are a gift from God, we never know how long we will have them, until they are called home again. We should be grateful for every second. Having lost a child myself, I know this to be true. I know your dad, grandparents, brother and all the rest of your friends and family certainly feel this way. I count myself among them. Rest in peace in the warm blanket of prayers and love that surround you.... Until we meet again.... Love, Karen	Talking about horses and going out for pizza!

Rhiannon, I remember the first and only time I met you. It was at Steve and Tracy's wedding and I was just pulling into the driveway, you came running up to me, all smiles, cello in hand running in front of my truck showing me where to park. I was laughing out loud because you were so full of energy and life. Thank you for that memory, it makes me smile every time I think about it and when I think of you I am reminded that I should embrace life in the same way. Thank you so much.

Sadly, I have never met Rhiannon but feel as if I have known her forever. I somehow stumbled upon this website looking for some inspirational quotes and found this extraordinary collection of love and remembrance. I am so deeply touched by the love and compassion that Rhiannon seemed to possess. I am sitting here wondering why God would take such a special young girl but realize that he has not taken her but given so much more. She has managed to touch someone all the way in New York. I am so sorry for your loss.

I can't really talk to anybody about it, because nobody would understand I miss you. You know I love you? Have I said that recently? I went to your grave a few days ago.... It's so pretty. Just like you. I think my depression is going to overcome me before too long now. It's been worse and worse. With you, I could beat it, now you're the reason it's happening. I have lots of friends, but who can I tell about my depression? Jiana doesn't understand. I feel so lost without ya. But I have nobody to tell about it. I think that if things don't change soon, I'm going to just commit suicide. I miss you too much. But who knows? Maybe there is somebody taht cares abuot mt. I have to go now, but you take care... wherever you are. I love you 4ever, alright? No matter what happens, I love you.	I LOVE YOU RHIANNON LORENE MILLER. DON'T YOU EVER FORGET IT!!! Hey Rhiannon~
I haven't wrote for a little while, buti read your guestbook, and look at pictures almost everytime i get on the computer.
Our orchistra is having a concert, and i hope you tune your ears in to us. At the last one, which was the first one without you, it seemed like you were just sick or something. I remember your cello pants, with all the liney things, and how you always laughed at me because I had to wear a skirt, and you didn't. I remember how i talked to you about being nervous, and you just told me that i would do fine, and I had nothign to worry about. Being told that, always made me feel a little better. Everyone thought you always got over dressed, the pretty gold bow in your hair, or your music note earrings, and now, none of us forget the sight of them.
Im sorry for dragging you away from aaron, when you guys would talk in the stairway, and i would have to pull you by the arm to get to moving to your grandparents car. Now, i regret that, since every moment was presious.
A couple of days ago, my frined found a short story, obiously not finished, that you wrote on the computer on my classroom. I don't have it with me When se tripped over the school bass, and left now, but when i get it, i'll type it up on this site.
 a gash in it.

Hi Sweetie,

We all still miss you so much. I don't think that will ever go away. I think of you several times a day and come to this website to see your smiling face.

Kirsten graduates this week. You would be proud of her. I am. She has worked very hard. I know you will be with us at her graduation watching her walk with her class.

Kevin's doing good. He's looking for a summer job. He's real anxious to work and make some of his own money.

Hey Rhiannon.... It's Janitor Bob again. I never wanted to say it, but I think I'm falling apart. Everything that can go wrong has. I loved you more than I've loved anything, or anyone... You told me once that I shouldn't morn you if you ever killed urself, u nevre did. But I think you wouldn't want me to morn you anyways, but if you think I'm not morning you, you're even crazier then I am. Just kiddin, hun. I love ya. But I honestly think I'm about to just up and die, because... I miss ya, and I really really really want to see you again. I want you back. And I'm willing to do almost anything to see you again. But you really do have to explain everything in ur life when I get to you. There's some things I heard that makes me wonder... But I'll never stop lovin you, because I love you wayyyyyy tooooooooooooooooooooooooooooo much. Don't you ever, ever, ever, ever, ever, ever, ever, ever forget I love ya, hun, and just remember, soon, and very soon, we'll be in each other's arms again.

When we were together on my couch. :). Hee hee hee hee. Sorry baby, had to say that. Love you 4evre!

After reading almost all of the letters in this guestbook, I am at a loss for words to describe how special Rhiannon was. You were all so lucky to have her in your lives even for such a short time and from what I have seen she was also lucky to have all of you. Bryan's letters touched my heart the most. I have 3 children (14, 7, 1 1/2) and my two daughters (14 & 7) have a hard time getting along but after viewing Rhiannon's site, they realized just how special they are too each other. It's amazing how many lives Rhiannon touched both while she was alive and even after she became the angel she is now. May the peace and love of God our father be with you always. God Bless. Boyfriend

The expression she had when she read the poem I gave to her.... Just seeing the eternal happiness she had was enough to make me know she was the one I wanted to spend my life with, but now I can't, no matter how much I wish it wasn't so... But I have to be strong now...

Though the times may be trying, I will not be daunted.

Wonderful World

I see trees of green,

red roses
too
I see them bloom

for me
and you And I think to myself

what a
world.
I see skies of blue

and clouds of white
The bright blessed day,
dark sacred night

And I think to myself

DEDICATED TO RHIANNON.
It's just not the same without you, we miss you!

As you can see my name is also Rhiannon, I was named for the Fleetwood Mac song. I assume that was where you got her name since the songs plays on your site. i just found the site by accident, i am glad I did though. It is very touching to see how much work everyone has put into this site. I didn't know her at all, cause I live in Alaska, but the way you describe her sounds like me sort of, maybe not.
: it just struck a cord. I hope you are all doing well.

I didn't know Rhiannon at all... but today looking for inspirational quotes, I was linked to this beautiful page.
How happy life has she had had, and even though it was short, it looks like it's still brightening all her family and friends, and all people she knew or even she talked short to. Must have been a very special girl.
My prayers will go to her, and her family who will never forget her.
But she has not gone. She is still in your hearts. That's where people has to be in, and will never been forgotten.
Thanks for sharing this love with strangers.
It's really the most beautiful, loving, and caring webpage I've ever seen or gone into.
The pictures, backgrounds, music and beautiful fonts made this a very special page.
Keep this web page alive!

I just fell upon this website. At first I really liked the way that her name was spelled. I started to research the website some more and found out that one of God's angels had passed on to watch over us.
Even though she was with her family and friends for only a short time I am glad that ya got to see her wonderful and warm touches of gold. This is a very inspirational website. Thanks for sharing her sprit and wings with the rest of us. The way that you describe her personality is so overpowering and if I ever I have a little girl I would consider calling her Rhiannon. Thanks again for sharing and my thoughts and prayers go out to her family and friends.

God Bless

8/5/2003 1:01	Miranda	surfing through	This is such an amazing legacy to a girl who was obviously cherished by many. I'm truly touched. You must be an amazingly special group of people to have been loved by someone so beautiful and bright. May her memory live on in all of us forever,
8/5/2003 1:04	David Frost	none, found via 25T	Just wanted to add my 2 cents worth; my wife and I have been at Rhiannons site now for the best of an hour. Lovely lovely girl, we hope we can do for our children as you have done for her. She was obviously incredibly loved and cherished. Our prayers are with you all. From one father to another, you set a very high example. Thank you.

Rhiannon, i miss you so much, nobody will ever no how much this hurts, 24/7 damn, first you, then Chad's sister amanda, then, coach Jerry. this has been a tough year. well sis i love you and am counting the minutes until i can see that smile, and embrace your hug again. luv ya always and forever,Bryan my last one is my favorite, when she got off the lift for the last time and pulled me down the path with her ski pole and knocked me over. that was the last time i talked to her. goodbye sis luv always
8/9/2003 17:24	Andrea Kennedy	someone i will never forget from this moment	i recently lost my mother in April, who was very much like Rhiannon in a way they were both very outgoing,loving,and would do anything to make other people happy. I found this website while looking at quotes and it really touched me. Rhiannon lives on in many people's hearts including mine. I can't wait to meet her in Heaven. To all the people who knew Rhiannon, keep her alive in your hearts, you are all in my prayers. GOD BLESS

"SONG TO RHIANNON" sing golden birds

bring ease to troubled souls sing of Rhiannon
Great queen of old

Carry my burden Ease my woes
Heal me with laughter

Bring crisis to close

A cycle in yourself
You guide my life steps
You bring peace

Sweet song of Rhiannon Comfort
my soul
Ease greif And self doubt Make my heart whole

(to Rhiannon's family i am sure you are quite aware of how special your Rhiannon was and still is! as you can see we share the same name i to was named after the Fleetwood Mac song, i also smile when i hear it! but my name interests me also! and that is how i came upon your site! but i am wondering wether you know of the celtic goddess Rhiannon! and how many Qualities your Rhiannon shares with her!
"RHIANNON" means divine or great Queen, she confronts in times crisis. she was the goddess of change, movement & magic! now it sounds to me as if your Rhiannon was very magical!
also Rhiannon is associated with the horse goddess Epona! Rhiannon was said to give gift of making people forget and also the gift of humor, to ease suffering! It is also said that she is there to lead the souls of the dead to the next life!)

8/23/2003 12:47	Tamasha Christine E	Friend from the dojo	I have not been on this site in a long time... I just wanted to come back and see all my friends and all Rhiannons friends and strangers and basicly everybody come here and write things to her. I just wanted to point out that she was part of the TEAM program at the dojo which ment she had her own special hook for her ki (uniform). Im not sure who did this but now on her hook there is a little fake earing of a dove. Its the girls of the dojo's way of saying good bye, see you soon and may peace be with you. love.	Fighting because I was always 5 inches shorter then her. and she was only one year older.
8/24/2003 15:21	Marleena Turner	Cousin	Hi honey. I love you, Rhainnon!! I have been busy during summer now. You know what? I have new boyfriend :D. I have been always looked and looked at ur website all the time, not always what if I not busy then I will going to look up on the website. Someday, I will visit you. I will write to you more later. I have to go.. Love ya bye	Playing.. Talking.. Loveable..
8/27/2003 14:12	jiana	friend	I know that everyone at the dojo loves you, and misses you. I had been wearing that dove earing thing on my hand, the day that i went to school after everyone found out. An old friend

Two roads, diverge now...
Forever, crossing our way,
Now we're gone, and far apart,
And now, you're on your way,
Forever I'll say I loved you,
And forever is here to stay,
But now you are gone, and I say so long,
Until we meet again someday,
We will someday...
Be together again...
But until that time, I will suffer alone,
Why must we feel this way?
Pain is a part of life,
Something I wish I could stop,
But until that day, I cannot say,
It will be all right...
I know how everyone feels,
I am there myself,
All I can do, is remember you,
Until the day we're together again...
I do not remember anything...
Not even my own name,
All I remember is the fun everyone had,
While you were here to stay...

Hanging out with her was one of the greatest experiences of my life.

But first of all, to let you know, that I arrived okay.
I'm writing this from Heaven. Here I dwell with God above.
Here, there's no more tears of sadness; Here is just eternal love.
Please do not be unhappy just because I'm out of sight.
Remember that I am with you every morning, noon and night.
That day I had to leave you when my life on earth was through God picked me up and hugged me and he said,'I welcome you.
It's good to have you back again, you were missed while you were gone.
As for your dearest family, They'll be here later on.
I need you here badly, you're part of my plan.
There's so much that we have to do, to help our mortal man.'

God gave me a list of things, that he wished for me to do.
And foremost on the list, was to watch and care for you.
And when you lie in bed at night the days chores put to flight.
God and I are closest to you....In the middle of the night.

When you think of my life on earth, and all those loving years.
Because you are only human they are bound to bring tears.
But do not be afraid to cry: it does relieve the pain.
Remember there would be no flowers, unless there was some rain.
I wish that I could tell you all that God has planned.
If I were to tell you, you would not understand.
But one thing is for certain, though

Friend of an acquaintance

I never met nor knew about Rhiannon until a few weeks ago, Jiana sent me to this link and now I wish I knew her, the site design is incredible too. I just wanted to say im sorry for your loss and she will be waiting for you in heaven.

Though the time she spent here on earth was a breif flicker in the times of life... I do know she made a differance that will fade as soon as eternity ends. The only thing I know and the only thing that I hope is she is happy... My own feelings on what I want will come to naught.. I cared more then I can ever say for her, and I still have those feelings deep down... But recently, I have made mistakes that have been costly. Friends have gotten angrier at my stupid moves... People that once said we'd never be apart... It is amazing to me to see such change in so little time. I believe that your passing may of impacted this a lot... But I believe that in truth, if I could change one thing... I'd die, and bring you back one more time, to tell everyone goodbye... I myself have very few people to do that for... I'd want everyone to know that you are safe, happy, and cared for, up there in heavens arms... I still yearn for the day that you, your family, your friends, and I can all be together again... I've always tried to keep a cheery dispostion, but lately, with the loss of you and the loss of other friends, it has gotten harder to smile... I just wish I could turn back the clock and fix everything... But then, everybody wants to change what cannot be changed, don't they? In parting, I'd like to say something, but what it is, eludes my thought... So, I will say, farewell Rhiannon... Onto a

9/15/2003 17:29 A nobody named noFriend

The entire time I knew her was the greatest time of my life... Such sadness that it all good things, no matter how small, (or big, as she was) must end sooner then those who are not.

hey... as i sit here crying,i feel as if i should write again. I visited the place where you rest, and layed some flowers. Its imposible to belive that i will not see you.. and everytime I think about it, i burst out in tears. I read a super sweet email from one of my friends, about when someone that you loved leaves, they are always watching over you, and (ahh now im crying agian) and whenever you think about the person, they are just a few footsteps behind you. I miss you so much...i would do anything to see you agian. Why cant we sit and strech out, or talk in class, or gossip in the dressing rooms? Its plainly not fair.. that you had to go. You told me things that you wanted to do. Who you had crushes on.and where you wanted to live when you grew up. (cry..cry...)Why dont you walk around behind the corner of the library, and say hi to me, or do all the little things, that i thought less of then.. Why cant you do them again. I will walk down the halls in oly, and remember how you talked about going, and beeing the tallest girl there. (tear) Everyday, i think about you. Not one day passes, when something reminds me of you. Smiling,laughing, (flirting :)haha) i cared about you so much, and still very much do. But now, I will never be able to tell you how much i cherrished outr friendship. (cry)I hope you are wonderfully happy in heaven. I love you very much.

Someone who never knew her, but has now been touched by her life

I came to this site after reading the story about Rhiannon on 1000words.net, and I'm so glad I did. First, I was saddened by the story and the indescribable loss to Rhannon's family and friends. Now I feel grateful for the beautiful tribute you have made. I don't have children of my own, so I most identified with the tribute by Rhiannon's aunt, and I am inspired now to make sure I tell my nieces and nephews, and everyone else close to me, that I love them. So, although I never heard of Rhiannon until today, know that her life had a great purpose and her spirit continues to touch many people. I'm so glad I got to "meet" her. Thank you.

not ONE DAY that goes by that I dont think about you.
I still cant believe you're going to be 14 years old! You're turning into a woman now!
I miss you so very much and wish EVERYDAY that I could apologize for the promises I made and was unable to keep due to school and work getting in my way. I should have tried HARDER and HARDER to make free time to hang out with you.
I swear to you that I had so many plans for you and I. You were always one of my dearest friends, and one of my favorite kids to watch when you were younger and your dad allowed me to babysit for you. :-)
I always looked forward to your beautiful smile, great personality and amazing height!
Mom and Jim miss you terribly and are doing their best to assure me that you're not really gone but just on a journey.
I have not gone to visit your grave, although I keep telling everybody I will. I'm afraid to say goodbye. Im not ready to let you go completely. You've touched my heart in more ways than one and I'm not ready to let that go.
What I wouldnt give to hear your bike pulling up the gravel driveway to our house, your laugh, your jokes about how short John is compared to you, your interesting stories about how school is going for you and about a new guy you might like.
I miss you so much.
If I had ONE wish it would be to spend ONE MORE day

Every single time I saw her beautiful face she had a bright, warm, caring smile to share with the world

... memories, are here to stay. Maybe that's why, as I look back on everything, things seem so distant and sad. When I think about what once was, and will never be again, I nearly break down thinking about you. your death made me realize how mortal we all are. But... Somehow, even under this sadness, we all have something that drives us on. Maybe it's something you left in me when we were together. Maybe it's just human instinct. I don't know anymore. I miss you, and I will until I die. But even when I think of you, and I get sad, something is happy in me. You said to me once, "it's the little things that matter." I guess I never understood you until now. I always was slow you know. I'm going to always keep your memory in me, no matter what future stands out. Sitting here, thinking of you and everythign about you makes me smile and cry. It's sort of confusing, but I was confused a lot, wasn't I? Those times we spent together are the times I'll always treasure. It's a pity I didn't take more pictures, but those I have are badly devolped anyway. But I have them yet. I'm a sap, I know. But I gave you back the button of us together at Lakefair. It's yours now. Maybe you wont' forget me that way. I don't know. All I know is it was something I had to do. Someday, and someday comin, we'll be

11/20/2003 11:35	Jamie	Wish I had known her	What a sad and touching story, I only wish that I could have known Rhiannon. I want you to know that her story has the power to change lives, it is a precious reminder that life is beautiful and sweet, much like her. She shares the same birthday with my husband, who has also been a gift in my life. I will remember Rhiannon in my prayers on that day

we just met

What a beautiful site ~ what a whole bunch of love and what a delightful way to meet Rhiannon. She must be a busy angel popping in and touching so many peoples hearts this way. Stay strong in the knowledge that your beloved girl lives on.

12/14/2003 19:41		: Kristen Welch, Wilm her.	I didn't know of his best that week, apparently. You are all in my prayers.	I just want to say this website is incredibly touching and inspirational. The week Rhiannon was lost was a hard week for all of us. I lost my best friend's mother to breast cancer on February 13th, and a close friend to a car accident on the 16th. God took home three
12/15/2003 8:44				What a beautiful memory of your daughter. I came across your website while looking for inspirational quotes. I am using some for my school's bulletin board and will have memories of your daughter when I see them each day. I have a son the age of your daughter who is also a musician. You and your family will be in my thoughts and prayers during this holiday season.

12/23/2003 0:49		: Jim	distant friend	Hey Rhiannon, its near Christmas and i was thinking of my past years. I still remember in science when u had a full king size Snickers bar and i wouldn't be quiet about how hungry i was and Ms. Anderson told me to be quiet. lol. And sure enough within 1 min. you came right over and said "Knock yourself out" and you had a big smile on your face. Anyway i just wanted to let you know i was thinking of you.	I dont really have a Fav. memory about Rhiannon, she was just always happy and loved to help other people. We miss you.

12/27/2003 11:07	Roslyn Bruns	Unrelated	Until a few moments ago, I never heard of Rhiannon. I merely stumbled across this website . . . and I am touched. She was a special person, and I have felt a little bit of her, have been inspired by her, even though I never knew her. You who did were truly blessed.

1/6/2004 1:26	Ashley	close friend	hey rhiannon i cant stop thinking of u i miss u sooo much!!! HAPPY BIRTHDAY!! HAPPY NEW YEAR!!!! LUV YOU SO MUCH!!!i loved it when u made me laugh every time that i was with u!!	when she was over at my house and she made me laugh so hard!!!

Hey Guhr. i kno i have signed this soo may times..
But i just have so much to say to you. I love you soo Much. If i could have one wish it would b to have to back alive. I kno that you are in a beter place where every thing is perfect and peaceful. But with you Livign.. every body looked up to you. Even if sum body was down and u didnt kno them.. u took the liberty out of your day to try and make them feel beter. That trully is sumthing that i wish i could so, but i cant. I kno that I didnt kno you very well, but still i did hang out with you and that counts. I wish i could have gottten to kno you beter From the look s of it and From what every body told me you Were such an awesome frend and a awesoem person.I am sorry tha you had to leave the earth but at least you have nothing to worry about.. No fears, No saddness, No pain, Just bliss and Happiness. When i Die and Go to Heaven i will make sure that i can kno every thing about you, I love you and until i make it to where you are... R. I. P.

Her Smile. She always had the biggest smile on he face. Out of every body i have ever been friends with, she was the one that smiled every single day, al day. I will never forget that smile!

Rhiannon, every once and a while I get outbursts of tears, and nights of wondering angreyly why. Why did it have to be you, and why cant you still be here to make me feel like im short. The little things. I talked to Aaron tonight, which I rarley ever do. I talk to him about you, when I feel like talking. I was thrown in a fit of tears, when I found out his cell phoen broke, which held messages from you, saying how much you missed him, and wondering what he was doing, and that you loved him. Hearing your voice was a magical thing, that now, I only have my mind. I can hellishly remember the day that me and aaron found out, we had a funny, laugh filled day at the dojo, and I come home and go online to talk to my friends. This girl that I dont talk to much asked me if I had spoked to Rhiannon that day. Because she had heard that she was dead. I started yelling at her, because I thought, who would say such mean things about Rhiannon? I went online, just wondering if anything had gone on, and i saw the olympian. My friend came over, and she just held me while i went from shock, to terror. I called the dojo to get Aarons number.. becasue i thoguht he would kill himelf if he found out on his oun. Scott answered and was very shaky, and told me not to tell him, that his parents were going to tell him later that night. I talked to aaron later online, and told him how much

Well...it's been like a year now...and while I've held back the tears for so long because I thought I had to be strong, I've finally cried. I was looking through the 6th grade year book. You were always so beautiful and it hurt that you are now 6 feet under. Well...I miss arguing and fighting with you. I miss giggling and joking around with you. I just miss you. but my daughters name is Rhiannon Louise Miller.
Isn't that just to close. wow
I am so sorry to hear about your daughter. My prayers are with you.

Well, I was over at her house and we were watching movies and then we were pretending to be movie stars or singers and we were fighting over which of us got to be with Leonardo Dicaprio. She won.

relationship .

Well, it's felt like absolute torture, living as I have without you, but I'm still going on. I'm still not exactly sure what's driving me. I met one of your friends the other day. Angie. She didn't even know we had been dating. Crazy, huh? Everyday I live feels like an eternity without you. Everyday I exist without you, I seem to lose part of myself. Maybe it's just my imagination. I still hear your voice, and I still see your face like it was never gone. I was speaking to one of your other friends the day, and she said she was scared we'd never see each other again. I say, just believe. It's all you can do. It's not going to end badly. Because who wants to spend an eternity in pain and torture? Honestly, believing I'll be with ya again someday has driven me long far. I believe in you, and in us. Don't think I forgot you, because I haven't. That's why I gave you the picture. I don't want to forget me either. Well, I'd better go. Take care of yourself, sweetie. I love you!

What better memory than the first time I laid eyes on you? I remember it very well. You were at the dojo, stretching out, and I remember saying, "Watch out! You almost tripped me with those things." I fell in love with ya then. Take care!

I'm part of a whole, of a better cause. Or I was at least. I've been trying to understand what it means to say Good-bye. It seems to simple a thing to say. In my mind, I've done it a thousand times. But then again, in my mind, anything is possible. In my heart, and in my body, I cannot say good-bye to you; it's too hard to do. I've managed to find other people to care about in my life, but they seem so small compared to what I felt aobuto you. I joined a "gang" I guess the term would be to try and understand how other people cope. It turns out they cope by violence. So that doesn't work. You konw as well as I do, I don't like wasting time on violence. I actually had to leave the dojo recently because of finachel problems, plus my parerents and I have been fighting way too much lately. It seems like I'm shedding away my past. It is more painful then anything I've ever undergone. I wish so much I didn't have to try to understand why I do it alone. But being alone means you understand alone. It's just how things are... Tis weird I guess. Anyways, I guess I should get some work done.... I'm trying to find a job... Again... Besides, I'm saving up to come to Mexico, just like we were going to do together... Dreams unwind... But still they remain... I miss you Rhiannon... I hope you can hear me. I hope my cries of anguish can reach you... I hope you understnad Seeing her was a memory in itself+-

none, but I, too, have a daughter named Rhiannon.

I found this site by accident. It is beautifully done, and a fitting tribute to someone who is greatly loved. Although my daughter is very much alive, I also have a memorial page at my website, <http://www.gbronline.com/create>, for my first wife, Judi, who passed away in 1996. Judi already had Rhiannon picked out as a name for a daughter she might have someday when I met her in 1976, and in 1980, Rhiannon was born to us. She is 23 years old now, and Judi lives on in her. Your site is beautiful and inspiring. I am saddened by your loss.

Hey Rhiannon!
Its been a long time since I've popped on to see you. I miss you so very much. I am having to deal with the fact that your one year is coming up soon. One year, Rhi....shakes head I still cant deal with the fact that you are gone. You will always remain the baby sister I never had. Brian was...IS lucky to have you. He is very blessed, as is the rest of your family and your friends.
I know you've come to visit, for EVERYBODY in my family has had a dream with you in it, so we all know that you took a fly trip down here and saw us. Thank you so much for coming to see me so many times. I enjoyed hanging out with you so very much and I hope we can hang out again soon.
You will always be in my prayers and I cannot wait until the day arrives that I will get to hang out with you again.
Hey, maybe we can play games like we used to when you were just a kid. smiles

I love you Rhiannon.

Oh there were just so many!

2/19/2004 17:58 Tracy Miller	Aunt Tracy	Dearest Rhiannon,

It is so hard to believe that is has been a year ago today. Seems like just yesterday that we had the pleasure of seeing your smiling face and listening to your laughter. We all miss you so much.

Every time I come to your website to visit you, I am simply amazed at all the people you have touched. You have inspired so many lives. Even strangers. Everyone misses your smile, laughter and kindness.

I love and miss you Rhiannon.

Hugs & kisses,
Aunt Tracy

Hey... I ran into your grandparents today... It was rather amusing to see all of us there, at once... Fate it seems is rather humorous. But anyways, I just wanted you to know I'm always thinking of you. Sometimes even when I'm just sitting there, twiddling my thumbs, you pop up like a burst of sunlight. It hurts at first, then you bask in it's warmth and joy.. I think that was the worst analogy I ever did, but it's the only one i can think of. Well.. I don't know what to say now, as usual... Well, I have to try to get a job, so I'll take off, I just wanted to say you and your family are in my thoughts and prayers forever. See ya.
 love lots

Hey Rhiannon. I cannot believe that it's been a year already. It is just too hard for me, and my family to accept.

I was sitting here with Shane and Ben (you remember my brothers, right?) talking about you and Shane saw the memorial I had made for you on my journal and said, "Its so hard for me to deal with the fact that she passed away just before my birthday"

Shane, Ben and I miss you so very much and we think about you every single day and talk about you every chance that we are all together.

Shane is 22 today. Can you believe it? It feels like only yesterday that him and i were over at your house, babysitting you and Brian, having a lot of fun watching movies and playing games. He was only...gosh...16 I think then. Thats a LONG time ago.

God, I miss you Rhiannon. puts hand over heart Every day your spirit joins me, for I feel the breeze kiss my cheek as you silently and invisibly wing on by to say "hello"

One year and I'm still not over it.

I miss you.

4/7/2004 20:06	Rhiannon	none	hey we have the same name that is neat

When we talked, so long ago it seems, everything was at peace for me. Nothing was painful. Now, sitting here, thinking as I do, things have just fallen apart around me. Outside, I won't let anyone see my pain that's building, but inside, I feel nothing anymore, but sadness, sadness for you, sadness for us all. Sadness at being alone in this life as I am. I've managed to keep a stiff upper lip about what I feel, but I think it's going to just fall apart, now... In all honesty, you saved me from myself, you taught me the one lesson I couldn't read in a book, nor find in a movie. You taught me how to live, but now that you are gone, I feel as though that lesson was wasted. I miss you so much. I can't even explain. I will someday though

I can't stop thinking about you... I'm asleep, there you are, I'm doing my homework, (which I should be doing right now) there you are in my thoughts. I've seen what others say about you, and almost every last bit is true. I'd of taken that tree in a heartbeat, given the chance, and I beleive that will haunt me forever. My own helplessness is boundless. At any rate... I can never put you out of my head. I visit your grave every week or two, and it's so peaceful there... It's hetic at home, and I don't think I can rest peacefully thre much longer. In all honesty, I don't think i'm at peace with anything anymore. I've lost my balance. On a positive note, I was this close to getting my liscine this morning. On a side note, I'm bad with numbers. anyways, I still remember the promise I made to you, and the places we would have gone. I still intend to keep our promises, and still plan to go where we would have gone. I keep your memory, for taht's all I got. My silence keeps me quiet about it, but I miss you to death.

How can there be a favorite memory of one you love?

4/21/2004 18:22 Jack Rogers	None... passerby on the web... a father. My parents named me after the fleetwood mac song	I happened upon your site as a result of a link from the "Swishzone" site, highlighting your creative "swish" design, which I fell in love with, and wanted to follow the link to your site. I don't know why or how you lost your beautiful girl... but I'm sorry for your loss. My heart is with you. I have a daughter (Mallory) who is now 15, and a son (William) who is 11. They are my life, as I know Rhiannon was yours. You will be on my mind and in my heart as I pray. You have created a beautiful 'legacy' for her with your creative site... I know you'll miss her until you see her again someday in eternity... my heart goes with you. Thanks for your (and Rhiannon's) inspiration. God bless.
4/21/2004 22:34 Rhiannon		Did her parents get her name from the fleetwood mac song?
4/22/2004 6:59 Rhiannon Shaw 4/23/2004 17:55 chris	I didn't know her at all.	I came across your site while looking for a picture of the mystical Rhiannon for a school project of mine. I read her legacy and she was a truly special young lady. I am sure she is truly missed, but she is looking down on you and smiling every day knowing that everything will be ok. God Bless!!!

condolences from Australia.

I just was scanning websites to find out the spelling of Rhiannon and since it was the title to a poem I have just written. I don't know why I found this one.

Rhiannon is the Welsh Goddess of Instinct. My mother was a Finney from

Cardygg. I wrote this poem about a lady called

Rhiannon's words would have been "like butterflies in the summer air." Instinct tells me that. I am a parent myself and her loss would have been devastating. Vale mia dulcis!

I have none being a stranger from a strange land. I can only offer my condolences in the hope that time will never erase her memory.
No doubt she would have been a lovely kid.

Just saying hi again. I haven't been writing as much as one would think I would. I'm basically trapped between my past and my present. I don't know what I'm supposed to do anymore, because in all honesty, when I lost ya, my future was ripped aprt. It seems so simple to say, she's gone, time to move on, but it's not. What she taught me, is like imprinted on my forehead, and I can't see past it. But a promise made is a promise kept to me, and thus, I shall do what I promised, so long I believe you are still in my heart. See you later, hopefully not too far off...
 Forever,
Aaron

On March 30, 2004, our little girl Ciara Rhiannon was born. We too named her second name after the Fleetwood Mac song. It is not a common name in this country, so I browsed the net to find out about it, and found your site about Rhiannon Miller. In 1997 we lost twins, after they were born too early, after 20 weeks of pregnancy. So we know how you feel. It is a nice site, and I hope your family will find peace while working on this site and reading messages from around the world. Rest in peace.

I too have named my daughter Rhiannon after Fleetwood Mac. After reading through the website my daughter shares a lot of the same qualities that your Rhiannon has as well. My Rhiannon will be 12 and will start violin this summer for jr. high. I love her w/all my heart. My thoughts and prayer's for all the friends and family you are surrounded by. Rhiannon seems to have touched many lives. I think it is awesome that you all still write to her to let her know your thoughts/feelings....she knows.

None, but I would have loved to have known her. I happened upon this site when I typed "Rhiannon" into google. My daughter's name is Rhianna and I was curious.

I am so moved by the beautiful web site, and all the nice things that were said about Rhiannon.. I'll bet she was as wonderful as everyone said! She was a fellow cellist, such a shame to see a beautiful, young, talented girl gone. May God bless her soul and the family and friends...

That one guy who shows up all the time

Hey... I guess it's safe to say things are changing.
I've been having a lot of problems lately. I don't quite understand the ways of time. My best friend gave birth, as did my sister... I keep seeing all these people appearing, loving, caring. But I can only smile faintly, remembering what once we shared, what seems like an eternity ago.. I really miss ya Rhiannon.
I don't know where I'm going anymore, and without any guidance, I am afraid of going in circles forever...
Where do I go from here? What do I do? Anyways, sorry this took so long. Happy belated anniversary.
Hope you still haven't forgotten me in your adventures in beyond. luv ya, later

Every minute I spent with her was my favorite... Every smile she gave, every laugh
she chuckled

7/11/2004 22:15	, Mariah Mao	I went to elementary and middle school with her	It's been a while since i've written in this guest book, but i was just thinking of Rhiannon. I thought about how she was always giving and had such a warm smile. And how even the rudest comment to her she could take it in and back fire to the person with humor. I remember what a magnificent cello player she was. She probably would've been first chair this year. Mr.Pendergrast, our orchestra teacher, made an award after Rhiannon past. It was the Rhiannon Miller Outstanding Student Award. Danny Balaban won it last year, and when he did i thought that would be such an honor to have that title. So i worked hard in orchestra, and at our very last concert i got her award. And may i say it felt even a greater honor than i expected. I will always remember getting that award and i wish she was still here. I hope she does know that i'm sorry i didn't talk to her as much as i did.
 Love, Mariah Mao	I remember in Mrs.Kressin's class last year we were building Hovervilles and my team and i couldn't really get ours to work with us, so Rhiannon came and helped us even when she wasn't supposed to. We had such an awesome time that day.

even though I hardly ever got to play one(my family could never afford the lessons or renting the cello) it was something that I always dreamed of being good at. I would listen to professional cellists, and just hearing their music brought me to tears. Like her, I am an individual, not given to caring whether or not what I do or what I am wearing is considered by other people to be "cool". As I sit here and type this, I am crying, knowing that such beauty and talent has been so suddenly wrenched from this world, and that she will never get to go to her junior prom, (as I will do this next year). Forgive me. You do not even know me and yet I am crying over your daughter and the loss of her to this world.
If I would have been able to know Rhiannon, I am sure that we would have been great friends. I only hope that we meet after all is said and done.
Rhia
(Here is a poem I dedicate to your daughter, Rhiannon:)

I sit and listen to the trees whisper in their many languages, as they converse with the wind who so often tangles in their boughs, winding itself among them like a lover among the sheets, only wanting to be part of the real world of which it can only behold, feel, and blow through, never able to actually touch or entwine like the flowers it every day beholds, nodding their

This morning while doing a search for my daughter's name online I discovered this webpage. I am very sorry for Rhiannon's loss. My daughter is Rhiannon Alexandra, born April 8th, 1999. You have my deepest sympathy, I cannot imagine what you have gone through. You have my prayers. My Rhiannon is very similar in personality from your description of your little girl, and I begin to think that what we name our children really does shape them into who they become. God bless.

Never growing old, tired or scared,
Rhiannon will be the guardian angel and light we follow to help us along the way. She was gone so soon, too soon, but in many ways she lived a magical life and was spared any great difficulties. She is missed and cherished. Rhiannon we love you and miss your wonderful fresh view of life.

3/1/2005 21:19	Rhiannon Buglar	None	Gosh,
I am just like all the other Rhiannon's who have written in this guest book. I have always been facinated by my name, so I was just browsing the internet and fate brought me to this website.

My father named me after the Fleetwood Mac song. I am 24 years old and I live in Townsville, Australia. I don't know of any other people named Rhiannon, I know that they are out there now! Growing up I hated my name, nobody could spell or pronounce it. Now that I am older, I love having a name that is different and unique as it makes me feel as though I am as well.

I am sorry for your loss, but I am thankful that you have remembered your daughter in such a beautiful way. When I came across this website at work, it brought me back down to earth and I realised just how lucky I am.	Bringing together Rhiannons from all over the world!

3/4/2005 9:10	Rheanna	nothing besides a common name and a common personality,...	at first I thought it would be weird if I left a message on here for you to read, but now I see I'm not the only one. I, too, did a search on the name I derived mine from, and when I found this website I felt I had to look around. I am so sorry to hear of your loss, and while time eases the pain, it can never truely be erased. I wanted to comment on what you said of your little girl though. I'm 19 and I'm exactly as you described your daughter. I'm not here for everyone else, I'm different, and I'm an "old soul" as well. It was uncanny. Maybe it's something with the name? Let there be peace in your house, because I think there's a little of Rhiannon in every one of us,....

3/14/2005 11:31 Rhiannon	nothing	i think this website is very touching, i was looking up my name and came across this website which caught my eye i think it is a fasinating thing you have done to set up a website in memory, and i feel that, whoever you are, are very strong and amazing!
3/15/2005 1:55 Rachel	None	Hello, I've stopped by your site before and thought I'd see if you had updated it. I lost my twin Rhiannon. Hopefully, your Rhiannon and my Rhiannon are the best of friends in heaven and having a wonderful time.
3/16/2005 17:12 Rhiannon Yocum	none	I was doing research on the name Rhiannon, and I found this website. I think it is a beautiful thing you are doing. It was so surreal to see my name on a headstone. I am truely sorry for your loss. Rhiannon is a wonderful name, I get commented on it all of the time.
3/23/2005 10:31 Amanda		was doing research on the name Rhiannon for my friend and I found this website. I think it is a beautiful thing you are doing. headstone. I am truely sorry for your loss. Rhiannon is a wonderful name

I am terribly sorry for the loss of your daughter. It's always hard to lose someone you love so much. I too was just looking up my name in the internet and I came across this. I now will always think of your daughter when I write my own name. She seemed so happy it must have been heartbreaking. Just writing this entry is bringing me to tears. My best wishes for your family's happiness. RIP forever Rhiannon.

The Ex

Hey there. I haven't left a message for some time. I thought I'd stop and drop a message again. I visit the grave site every now and then and well, it's beautiful out there. I'm not for words, then again, I'm typing this, so thanks... Rhiannon's memory lives in me, and well, I believe she has touched us all in a way I can't even begun to put into words. Everyone she came into contact with, she spread happiness like a really really good disease. I miss her everyday and I'm thankful I had the chance to know her like I did. Have a great day everyone!

Uhh... Do I have to choose? I loved every memory I had of her!!

Hi, my name is Rhiannon. I was looking up stuff about my name and saw this site. I am terribly sorry for your loss. I would love to meet a "Rhiannon", i never have though. Maybe I will meet your Rhiannon in heaven!!! I thought it was weird that her birthday is 11/14/89 because mine is 12/14/87. I bet people had/have trouble pronouncing and spelling her name. I have gone through that all my life, plus I have a weird last name so that makes it even more difficult, and frusterating for me. You had a beautiful daughter, best of luck to you and everyone who knew her.

as you can tell, i'm one of the many women/girls who have come across by searching their name... and like so many others, i think i've been affected with only the little amount i've read about her. I went through a hard time in my life at 14, and part of me wonders if somehow, those who have the same names are maybe connected in some way... far fetched, but who knows?

She must have been a beautiful wonderful creative, bright girl who really had no time for worry, that she loved every minute of whatever it was that she was doing at the time. Thank you for putting this up, so that others will know about her.

"Death does not end a relationship. The relationship lives on in those left behind."

May the Lord bring her peace, and may you remember her in the light that she brought to your life.

4/6/2005 2:06 Rhiannon Ylvisaker n/a... name only

Well I'm not going to state the obvious on how I found the site. My daugther name is Rhiannon and she is 2 yrs old. I could never imagine my life without her since she come into it and I can't imagine what it is like with your Rhiannon in heaven. I think all Rhiannon's are orignal and different. I know my daughter is.I think that is one of God's pre-req on coming into this world and I hope Rhiannon's being different and orignal in Heaven.

Reading about your daughter Rhiannon was very inspiring and uplifting. She seems like she was such a wonderfully cheerful and loving person. I am so sorry for you loss... I am going through a very tuff time in my life right now; visiting this page reminds me that everything happens for a reason and God will never give us something we can't handle. Thank You so much for reminding me of this.

"This world was never meant for one as beautiful as you."
About a year ago, my mother died of an accidental drug overdose. These quotes are on her gravestone. I thought, since your Rhiannon, was such an amazing girl, I should share them with other deserving people. Every time I hear the songs they are taken from (My Heart Will Go On & Vincent) I feel as though a piece of my mother is being given back to me. It is a wonderful feeling, so i think you should feel it too.I can tell Rhiannon and my mom were alot alike. My mom was perky and bright, with brownish-blond hair and brown eyes. She had my brother, Luke, when she was 20, and four years later had me, than two years later had my sister, Lucy. Three years after that, she had Lindsey,my baby sister. Three years after her birth, my baby sister Lindsey was in the care with my mom. Lindsey wasn't buckled in to her carseat. A drunk driver hit my moms car, and Lindsey died instantly. I have dealt with alot of pain, as I'm sure you have. I'm glad there is someone out there to share my smiles and sorrows with. Thank you.

5/6/2005 5:52	: Ruth		I came across this site by accident, and I just wanted to say that it is the sweetest most inspirational and reverant site I have ever seen. Thank you for sharing this with the rest of us. The beautiful pictures which show her cheery smile and the things she loved.
5/6/2005 21:16	: Phoebe	None	I think my sister visited here a day or so ago. I just wanted to ask you to please visit my mothers memorial site, www.tasstonmemoriam.bravehost.com
Your website is a beautiful memorial for your beautiful little girl. I'm so sorry for your loss.
5/8/2005 15:11	: Rhiannon	same name	I'm sorry for your lose...I was born in 1977 right after the song was released..It is a beautiful name..Her memory will live on though the song..

for her parents. This poem was given to my parents when my sister died in 1966.
 To All Parents
 "I'll lend you for a little time
 a child of mine," He said,
 "For you to love the while she lives and mourn for when she's dead.
 It may be just a few short years or twenty-two or three,
 But will you, till I call her back,
 take care of her for me?
 She'll bring her charm to gladden you,
 and should her stay be brief, You'll have her lovely memories
 as solace for your grief.
 I cannot promise she will stay,
 Since all from earth return,
 But there are lessons taught down there,
 I want this child to learn.
 I've looked the wide world over in my search for teachers true,
 And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes
 I have selected you.
 Now will you give her all your love,
 Don't think the labor vain,
 Nor hate me, when I come to call to take her home again.
 I fancied that I heard them say:
 "Dear Lord, Thy will be done,
 For all joy Thy child shall bring,
 the risk of grief we'll run.
 We'll shelter her with tenderness.
 We'll love while we may.
 And for the happiness

I fell in love with Fleetwood Mac at the age of 15, then in 1973, I think... I fell in love with the song and the name Rhiannon and carried it over till I married. The one name I insist on, I told my future husband, to name our first daughter, is Rhiannon. She is 21 years old now. I, for the first time, saw Fleetwood Mac in concert in Sacramento... "Say You Will" Tour. When I heard the first few notes as they began to play Rhiannon, I phoned her and we listened to it together. The reason I am here today.. is this.. a few days ago someone told me, when I said the names of my children.. "No one is named Rhiannon." Oh how sorry he was for his comment. I came to look up the legend of Rhiannon to copy for him and found this lovely site. Look how many girls there are named Rhiannon!!! I will give him this link too. I spent some time in this site and found it quite lovely. I, too, am sorry for your loss, I lost my sister when I was 10, she was 5, it was her birthday when while at play she was struck down by a car. It has been my darkest memory all my life. But.. I know she lives in heaven, as does your Rhiannon. I will bring my Rhiannon to this site also.. yes, I did just spell it correctly, as I changed the "o" to an "i" when I named her Rhiannin Michelle. My love to you.... Rhiannin's mom.

5/23/2005 3:37 : Rhiannon Edith Soph always will be : loss

When I was growing up I never liked my name, no one could pronounce it and I always thought I was just such a weirdo. Named after the Fleetwood Mac song as well, and I never liked it until the past year. I am 20 years old and finding myself identifying with the Rhiannon in the song, as well as with Rhiannon Miller, a girl I never met.
This wonderful website that is dedicated to, who seems like, a wonderful girl has truly touched my heart. Seeing the memories of another Rhiannon has shown me how unique and fun girls with our name are. There's just something about it. I send my sincerest apologies for the Miller family's loss, but I hope you find some comfort in the fact that your Rhiannon's spirit lives on in other Rhiannon's throughout the world.
RIP Rhiannon Miller

5/26/2005 15:48	Rhiannon	No Reply	My name is Rhiannon, named after the Fleetwood Mac song as well. I never used to like my name because nobody could ever pronounce it and I thought it a bit unusual. However, in these past few years I have grown to love my name so much. I think it is a very unique and beautiful name. My deepest sympathy for the family of Rhiannon Lorene Miller - R.I.P.

Losing a loved one is the hardest thing to do. Have it understood that Rhiannon's spirit, beauty, and grace will be carried with all the Rhiannon's in this world, along with myself. May her soul be nurtured in the hands of God and forever shall she truly rest in peace.	No Reply

6/2/2005 18:30	Rhianon Lyn Smith	Both of us were named after the Fleetwood Mac song.	Yes, my name is spelled correctly. My father made the decision to remove one 'n' from my name so I could be more unique. I am greatly sorry for the loss of this beautiful little girl. I love my name and always have. You were right in naming her 'Rhiannon'. This name belongs to all the beautiful, unique, and deserving girls and women. I lost my brother Joshua when I was 5 years old and I know how it feels to lose someone so important to you. My love and prayers go out to your family.	I don't have one, but I'm sure that there would have been plenty to remember.
6/4/2005 15:03	Rhiannon Nicole Mill	Our parents were both fleetwood mac fans	I'm very sorry for your loss. I no that it must hurt.I just lost my father last Aug. I know that its hard, but they are in a better place now, were they can watch over us
6/5/2005 16:29	Rhiannon Soryya Fra	We share the same name	I am very sorry for your loss, though I have not been through a loss like yours, but i have been through pain, which is nothing compared to a death, i know it's paiful. You were right to name her Rhiannon, like others have said, and I'm sure she will be missed greatly!	I did not know her, but if I had,I'm sure there would be many
6/7/2005 3:32	Rhiannon Frances Br	We have the same name, although i was not named after the song.....	I am sure rhiannon was a beautiful and loving girl, and if i knew her, i would probably miss her very much.....	i did not know her, but if i had of, i would be grateful for it.

6/7/2005 14:01 Bethany Young	We are both God's children	I named my daughter Rhiannon, after the Fleetwood Mac song. I was looking up meanings of names when I ran across this website that truly touched every piece of my heart; bring tears and smiles together. She seemed like a free spirited young lady that was here for a purpose...God has a plan for us all and now she is home. God bless her and all!!
6/8/2005 1:27 Rhiannon Jay Forde	we share the same name	i also was named after the fleetwood mac song. strangely we share the same name and alot of the same qualities. i believe she would have been every kind word mentioned in ur tribute. may she rest in peace.
6/8/2005 9:28 kylee rhiannon hawk	rhiannon is in my name I don't know her I just have the	my mom saw your website and started to cry. she says all rhiannon's are beautiful. was rhiannon an animal lover. i am my mom say its because rhiannon means queen of the forest. i love dogs,cats and such. your daughter is very beautiful. the email is my mom's
6/8/2005 15:59 Rhianon M. Franklin	same name.	Even though I'm only 8 I know how hard it is to lose a loved one.
6/11/2005 9:54		gone but never forgotten, rhiannon is always here, whch is such a luvly thing.
6/13/2005 2:15 rhiannon lydia davie	drawn to website due to name
6/13/2005 16:09 Rhiannon Rai Wolla	Same name.	I was named after the Fleetwood Mac song also. We were close in age. I was born 12/27/88 Im so sorry for your lose.

6/16/2005 14:09	Aaron	the ex. technically.	You know... I come here, every month or so, to see how things are... I always have to smile. I always knew that she was amazing, but I never anticipated how amazing. She changed so many lives... Even after she's gone, she continues to impact people around the world with her smile, and her... being... I can't even describe how that makes me feel. Words were never my strong suit, (actually, I don't know what is,) but I think that Rhiannon should be her own descption. She changed me forever. And ever.. And so on. And I only knew her for a short year or so. Her smile is always in the back of my mind, ready to come out if I need someone. Forever and a day, Rhiannon is the best as they say.
 ~Aaron	I loved being at her 13th birthday party. Especially drinking Sugar Water, it was almost yummy.
6/17/2005 15:52	Candace Kruger	didn't have the honor of knowing her	I happened on this website due to a link from the Middle Age Crazy site. Just wanted to say her memory still is touching people's lives as her loved one's might hope. Her story reminds us of how fragile and precious life is. She is beautiful and you must be so proud of the young women she became. Thank You for sharing her story with all of us.

6/26/2005 15:58	Rhiannon M. Wolf	Same beautiful name	I am so impressed with this website! What a wonderful way to keep your precious little girl's memories alive. Reading the stories and memories brought tears and joy to my eyes. Rhiannon sounds like such a good spirited, strong young lady. You must be very proud parents. Thank you for sharing your story with me. God Bless You...
6/29/2005 2:17	Breeanne Patrick	Classmate	I've visited before, but I never really thought I was ready to sign the guestbook. I know it's hard to believe, but even though I didn't know Rhiannon as well as others, I still think about her. I wonder how she is and what she's doing, and what our lives would be like if she was still here. She was just one of the few people that accepted everyone, and she got teased for that. If only the kids in our class would have stopped to realize how great of a person she was, and still is. I'm so sorry for your loss, she's one of a kind.	I have this image that I've kept of her, bouncing down the hall with this huge smile on her face. Whenever I think of her, I think of how happy she seemed. She was always so caring...
6/29/2005 2:47	Hanna	-	I am so sorry to hear about your loss.
7/3/2005 12:24	Rhiannon R. Barker	Same name	Im sorry for your loss.I never knew there could be to many Rhiannon's.Im only seven but I still know what its like to lose your soul.Have a good time in Heaven!!!!	The song,the pictures,the name and when my mother calls me.

7/3/2005 18:53	Rhiannon A. Foster	I didn't know Rhiannon personally. I was just trying to look up info about my name and came across this beautiful sight that so lovenly set out the short life of this obviously wonderful girl. I loved my name before but now i feel proud that I could have shared a name with someone like that. I too know what it's like to "march to the beat of my own drum" and after reading everything that the people who have loved this unique girl have had to say, I feel compelled to add that the world is really at a loss to have lost this truely beautiful girl.
7/5/2005 12:20	Rhiannon Barrett	Sorry for the loss...gosh never knew so many Rhiannon's existed. I too was named after the song
7/5/2005 14:08	Rhiannon Haydock	i didnt know her but we share the same name which is unusual in England (where i live). I didn't know Rhiannon but i am VERY much against bullying and it makes me really upset to see cases of bullying especially to the extreme of suicide. Sorry for your loss xx
7/5/2005 17:41	Rhiannon J. Miller	Man there are alot of Rhiannons out there. Who knew there was another Rhiannon Miller out there and we were even born in the same year. I am very sorry for your loss.
7/6/2005 14:26	RHIANNON MICHELL SAME NAME	WHO WOULD HAVE KNOWN OUR NAME,WOULD BRING US TO THIS ONE PLACE WHERE WE WOULD MEET.
7/7/2005 0:36	Rhiannon	Same name I Never knew there were so many Rhiannon's in the world, I always thought it was a very uncommon name. I'm so sorry for your loss.

7/8/2005 7:17	Rhiannon	Same name	Sorry 4 ur loss! Thought i was the only 1 (wow) ? her life may have been brief but her memory will be everlasting

7/18/2005 17:06	Natalia Poe	None I have a 7 yr old named Rhiannon..	I am so sorry for your loss.I couldn't imagine for a moment my Rhiannon not here with me.I pray that time will comfort you and your family...The photos show a beautiful girl .I'm sure you and your family are quite proud of her.. God bless and keep your family...
7/20/2005 9:45	Saba		i was looking for an artist named rihanna and happened to come to this site....i am so very sorry for your loss...no one deserves to lose a daughter or sister or anyone for that matter...the way you described Rhiannon...it seemed to me she was a free spirit, if you don't mind me saying..you should be :very proud of Rhiannon.
7/20/2005 15:35	Zack Torres	a friend	when I first met Rhiannon was in a study class.I was really mean to her an for that I am sorry and I wish I could tell her that.She looked past the fact that I was mean to her and wanted to be my friend.Afterwards I found out that she's a great person and has a good heart.
7/23/2005 18:13	Rhiannon Evans		So sorry for your loss. Like most Rhiannons on the site I was browsing for my name and came across the site. The website is such a lovely tribute to your daughter, she was obviously loved very much x

7/24/2005 1:13 | Jennifer

I somehow happened upon this site and am so sorry for your loss. Rhiannon looked like a very happy girl. As a Fleetwood Mac fan I will from now on hear that song and think of your wonderful daughter!

7/26/2005 1:12 | Wish not to say..

someone she knew

She changed my life, and for that, i am grateful. She was a great person.. and i wish i would've gotten to know her more. But her death, will never be forgotten, and her legacy, will never cease.

To: the most caring girl in the world
From: a friend..

She said something to me one day..and it made my outlook on life, for some reason, different:

I just signed as Rhiannon's mother before I read the site. My Rhiannon was born 2-20-05. Just a day and two years later. God Bless you and Yours.

7/31/2005 22:41 Rhiannon Sprowl

this really means a lot to me because i share the same name as Rhiannon. i really understand what she went through and i really feel like i am cured now that i read this.

I never knew her but she appears to be an amazing young lady and I'm certain she's watching over us now

Hi, i am deeply sorry for the lost of your daughter. I am 15 years old and i was born shortly after your rhiannon. It seems to me that every rhiannon is different and unique in thier own way. Every family with a rhiannon is very lucky to have them in thier lives. Your rhiannon was such a great soul and i am sure that she is looking out for all of us rhiannon's. I feel as if i had known her, i think it is in her smile. I am praying for your family for good fortune and happiness. I am so touched that because of a accendent, so many people have been brought together and can agree that rhiannon was and always will be apart of everyones lives.

8/3/2005 21:10		: Rhiannon Stieb	None	i did not know her i was looking up my name and happend to see this and read it and ive only met i person with the same name as me "Rhiannon" and she was 5 years old and i found this really weird i would like to meet another with the my name im 14 :years old.
8/4/2005 14:38		Rhiannon Sprowl	"same name"	Oh my gosh i didn't know there are so many "Rhiannon's" in the world! i thought i was the only one. i was just looking up my name when i came upon this sight. i'm really sorry about what happened. i'd also really like to meet a "Rhiannon" who is 13. and i didn't know that anybody else knew the "Rhiannon" song by fleetwood mac. power to all Rhiannon's!!!!!!

Hi. I don't sign here too often anymore. It's not because I think of Rhiannon less, it's because with my life as it is, somedays I barely remember to breathe, choking noises
But a little under three months ago, I began dating a wonderful girl. She and I knew each other before, and she's also suffered the loss of someone. Really, I'm grateful to her, and since she does visit this site, I'm going to say nice things about her only. ha ha. At any rate... I just want everyone who ever visits to know they're not mistaken at all by thinking Rhiannon was an amazing girl. She truly touched everyone she met. And even though she's gone, her spirit is still touching people, it'd seem by the amazing responses people give to this site. I'm so happy things went like this. Well, I've written enough again, so I will wish everyone who comes here the best in life they want... And to Rhiannon... Thank you for everything.

I could never pick a time. Whenever I saw her smiling, (often!) really was my best memory,

I was close

I found this site when i was looking up the meaning of my name and Rhiannon is closest to my name that i can find. I am 23 and the fleetwood mac song also inspired my name. This is a wonderful site and way to give your daughter a memorial. She sounded like a wonderful girl.

I had always loved the song "Rhiannon" and my husband and I were searching for baby names for a girl. The website was so touching, I feel like I almost knew your daughter. Our thoughts and prayers are with you, you truly have a wonderful memorial for your child. God bless, and oh yeah....I think we found a name for our daughter too.

8/19/2005 20:32 | Rhiannon Bonnick

When I was growing up I was really embarrassed by my name. My parents were ahead of their time when they named me over 40 years ago. As time went on I really wanted to embrace my name and live up to all its potential. Having such a strong name requires one to make a difference. Your Rhiannon definately did and continues to every day. Rhiannon is up above and making a difference. Being a parent myself I am pained by your loss and will continually think of you and your family. God bless

I don't quite know how, but I stumbled upon this website about a year ago. I was completely enchanted by this young woman, Rhiannon, and I cried as if she were my best friend. I visit this site often, especially when I need a lift of spirit. I figured it was time to share with her family the gift her being alive has given me--such joy and hope! Thank you for .Rhiannon!

My daughter Rhiannon is nine years old and i can't imagine life without her so i can't possibly understand what you're going through. Your daughter sounds like such a wonderful person and you must be so proud. I hope her lovely memories bring you peace and i am proud that our daughters share such a wonderful name. You will be forever in my thoughts.

My second daughter's middle name is Rhiannon(Che lsi Rhiannon).I was listening to the song and decided to look up the name and arrived at your daughter's website. You know what's weird? My daughter was born in 1989 too and is one of the kindest people you'll ever meet (like your Rhiannon). She has always stuck up for the underdog. I wish they could've met. They'd have liked each other, I know it. More weird coincidences, I grew up in Grants Pass, OR. I now live in Augusta, GA. My oldest child is a month older than your son. (I also have a 13-year-old son). It was fun "getting to know you!"

Although, I wish I had.

Wow! Rhiannon sounded like an amazing person! I found this site because one of my friends found it somehow, and told me about it. I decided to take a look, and here I am! I am so sorry that such an amazing person was taken from this earth. She deserved to live much longer, but I guess God had plans for her in Heaven. :)

I was searching the internet for Rhiannon's name in reference to a Celtic Goddess of Challenge.

You site is a great honor to Rhiannon.

Among my findings, I thought you would like to read Rhiannon's Goddess Gifts.

I am Rhiannon, known by many other names throughout the years and across cultures. Despite the ambiguities and changes with which I am associated, I remain steadfast, and this is my gift to you. Accept your setbacks and disappointments as challenges from which you can grow, and remember that no one but yourself can make you feel powerless or hopeless. Even the most dire situations can be eased by humor, forgiveness, and sometimes a good long cry. Be steadfast; be strong; be bold; be yourself.

I have a Rhiannon daughter myself.
I've visited this site often, the first time by mistake googling my own daughter's name, Rhiannon Liller. Google asks "Don't you mean Rhiannon Miller?", and I visit this site again with my tissue box. 13 years old and such an impact on others, what a blessing she was and still is-even to strangers like me. What a beautiful girl inside and out, I am so sorry for your loss, but in Heaven years pass like seconds and she'll be waiting, just like the earthly angel she was here with invisible wings. God Bless you and comfort you.
I like to come to this site and see her happy smile, it brightens my day, and teaches me to appreciate life/people more like she did.

Sorry, but I did not know her.
Hi,

What a nice site! I was simply Googling for a horse picture and ended up here, which was a nice surprise. I lost several people in the past few years, in Jan 2005 I lost my twin brother. So though a child must be the hardest thing of all to lose, I hope building this site brought you some small comfort. It's a lovely place, and Rhiannon looks like a lovely girl.
The book Rhiannon has long been a favorite of mine.

Be well.

I will be naming my daughter Rhiannon, and was looking up information on her name and her history, I don't know your beliefs, but I recently read a book. It is called "messages from the angels" by Doreen Virtue, there are some very good sections which deal with why things happen. Your daughter seems to have been quiet old indeed, you look into those eyes and see heaven's wisdom. She is beautiful. I just felt impressed to tell you of the book, I believe there are things in it any one who has lost a child should hear- especially mom.

2/18/2006 13:18 | R.K.

I was very moved by the sweet memories of your life documented by your family and friends. The world is that much better for you're having graced it... and by the nature of this guestbook, you are still positively affecting it. Thank you.

This beautiful website. The memory of this short visit will remain with me for a lifetime.

I didn't know Rhiannon personally but she has affected my life. A year after she died, I lost a friend in a head on car accident, May 9th, 2004. Mother's Day. Reports said he died instantly of internal injuries, but there wasn't a scratch on him. My last words to him were, "See you later." That was the Friday prior. Rhiannon, your website helped me accept his death. For months I refused to believe that he was gone. It wasn't until your site was brought to my attention that I was finally at peace with his accident. I think about him almost every day and some days are harder than others. However, I know that he's okay, and so are you. Some may say you were called home too soon, but you weren't. You made a great impact on those fortunate to know you and on those who weren't. I'm on the east coast and although I never met you, after reading most of the kind, loving things your family and friends said about you, it feels like I did.

Uncle

Portly still misses you.

Camping when the kids were little.

to get this on before the end of day. I type too slow...still! I want to get it before midnight.
 Rhiannon has been on my mind alot recently.
 Reminacing of good times, loving, family times, learning, being REAL... living real. Rhiannon was so darn wise. She sure inspired me to see some things in a better & brighter light.
 The other day a dilema was so soothed by something she gave me. It was not a material thing, it was an loving awareness.
 Recently she's come up in conversations, with people that didn't know her. Then I received a lovely valentine from her Grandma & Grandpa. Two days ago I remembered her Daddy's b-day (wishing the very best from my heart). The sunny sky reminds me of her; how she loved picking flowers, the fresh air, the sun on her face, Saturdays (no school)... and just life/earth/God. Rhiannon didn't have spring-fever...she became spring-fever... it ran through her veins!!! Awwh, memories.
 Then last night, just shortly after midnight, while carrying "Grandma Cole's" b-day into the next day ... my Sissy and I caught the radio playing "Rhiannon". (We loved eachother, us all, all of us)
 I wish the world had more of that, more Rhiannons, more love, more music & flowers, sunny skies & fresh air, Grandmas and valentines. More Sissies and birthdays, Saturdays, good memories. More

all of them, really

Not related, but she would have been a wonderful person to be related to.

I came upon this site quite by accident. I learned much about a young girls life, hopes and dreams. Although her life was short, her memory will always be here. Rhiannon was from what I read an exceptional young lady. I know that she is a joy in heaven. I wish peace and love to her family rest in peace.

I wish that I had one. I'm sure that if I had known her there would be many that I could count as favorites

I decided to spend some time and read about Rhiannon and I got extremely choaked up in the process. I am so sorry for your loss and that is truly a beautiful web site you set up in her memory. (I can't believe any a-holes out there would actually hack into it, boy that really fumed me when I read that.) Anyway, God bless you all and feel assured that you will meet up with your sweet Rhiannon again later when the time is right.
3/13/2006 23:01	Aric G.	No Relation	I went to Google for some pics of the S.S. Catala and it brought me here. As I was going through the site of course I noticed the "Its been three years" and wondered what that was about. Read on and was so moved and touched that I forgot completely why I was looking here at first. She is in GOD'S Hands.	Making me forget what I was doing!

3/30/2006 13:18	Rhiannon	- searching Rhiannon on the internet an found this site	Hi, I just wanted to say how sorry I am for your loss, and that this website is amazing. I really and truly hope that it has helped her family and friends come to terms with her death, and it seems to have captured some very happy moments. Your Rhiannon sounds like a very individual person, much like myself, and it's sad that she had to leave us. Much love and support to anyone who needs it, Rhiannon Bluemel, Southampton, England.

I just wanted to let you know that I first found this web site "memorial" for Rhiannon when I was pregnant with my baby. I already had the name of a little baby girl.. "Rhiannon". Well, we had a boy, and we named him "Marshall". Still everytime I play the song "Rhiannon" in my car, I think of your Rhiannon. I had already left a message while pregnant and didn't yet know the sex of our child. I will always thank God for this precious gift, and always remember my "Rhiannon", because she lives in my heart. Thank You so much.

Hi my name is Rhiannon, whilst searching for the origin of my name i came across your website.
Everything about the website touched me and i send my condolences to you and everyone who knew her. There is something about the name "Rhiannon", i feel the mythology surrounding the name is very real.

But from what I have read on your site you understand that what appears to be a loss is nothing more than the gaining of a special Angel to watch over you and guide you through life. The spirit of life that a Rhiannon carries with them is so abundant it engulfs those around them. From my readings your Rhiannon is still doing so with great will and love.	She has lifted my spirits and from the words of her family and friends I know my Rhiannon will be able to endure what ever life throws at her. I just wanted to say how sorry i am for the loss of such an amazing girl. I found your site completely by accident when i googled my own daughters name.
Yes I have a daughter named Rhiannon L Miller, but in my case the L stands for Leigh. She was born just 9.5 months after your Rhiannons passing. I found this coincidence amazing and yet meaningful. My daughter was named after the song as well. I feel that there must be meaning behind me finding this site and the amazing similarities. I see that you have a memorial scholarship fund in place and i would like to make a contribution. I don't have much to give, but i still would like to.

The Girl
I always knew her as a girl
Who made grass whistles, and Fell in love with every other boy she saw.
In a duet she was my other half,
We played a piece by some guy,
I don't remember who.
Suddenly the wind called to her,
With snowflakes and a tree,
She made the paper's front page
And left us all stunned.
I saw her on a balcony,
In a sparkly red dress.
Her body was on stage,
With oceans of flowers.
She waved and smiled at me
I smiled through my tears,
And I said good-bye.

This week I received a wonderful letter from Rhiannon's cello teacher, Robin Boomer. In it she included a poem written by one of Rhiannon's good friends and fellow cello player. I was so taken with the beauty and sensitivity of the poem that I wanted to share it with everyone (see favorite memory section below).

A man came into Starbucks today where I was working and commented on the name on my apron. He said that it was his daughter's name. When I asked him how old she is he said that she is an angel now. I checked the website when I got home and this is amazing. What a beautiful and talented girl ! I am lucky to be able to share the same name with such a person. Thank you so much for sharing with me.

Mr. Miller--

I just lost my niece named Rhiannon. I cannot believe how many things my niece and your daughter had in common. It must be something in the name. How I found your site and decided to pull it up, is that I was looking at the lyrics for Rhiannon and came across your site your daughter. My niece died on June 19th. She was 24. She had something very mystical about her. We never could figure it out. She wanted to believe. When she was little she pretended to be a horse, unicorn or Pegasus. She loved horses and other animals so much. When she passed she was a Vet Asst. It seemed that your daughter was fearless like my niece. My niece was so fearless. We use to have to tell her that she couldn't do things. She was a great swimmer and could run real fast. We were in Cayman one time and divers were below us looking at a bronze mermaid and my niece kept trying to free dive to touch it. I had to tell her it was too deep. I can only think that when my Sister named her Rhiannon it was because she was special and different. We always said she was different from other children, other people. She had an unreal smile and a hearty laugh. I read that people said your child had a beautiful smile. So I wanted to tell you that I had just started my mourning for my Rhiannon and I know you still mourn yours. I see a

1/26/2009 22:51	amee sand	none	my daughter rhiannon was born 2-14-07. found your site while looking up her name and just wanted to say i am so sorry for your loss. my heart is with you. i know words can never fix the pain, but i hope it helps that so many thoughtful people, most that you do not and may never know, are thinking of you. you are in my prayers. god bless.
2/18/2009 8:01	Rhiannon Lanning	None	As you can see my name is Rhiannon also and i found this website while trying to find out what my name meant. I am sorry for your loss. I guess i must have had a lot in common with your daughter as a name often defines a person. I know what my parents would be like if they lost their Rhiannon so i cant imagine how you felt when you lost her.I was too named after the Fleetwood Mac song and it is a beautiful song. Again, i am sorry for your loss.

2/18/2009 18:35	'Aphrodite.....aka Aꝥ none	I came across this doing a search on Goddess Rhiannon. I am an artist and I do Goddess Creation Dolls.Goddess Rhiannon came to me and asked me to create Her...As the song played and tears came to my eyes for your loss, my deepest most heartfelt prayers go to you and your family, Thank you for sharing and Blessed Be....
2/20/2009 11:23	Mark Morgan	I came here via a link given to me by Myla Kent from Flickr - I am very very sorry for your loss. Rhiannon was an amazing amazing young woman. Thank you so much for sharing - my thoughts and best wishes go out to you and yours.
4/9/2009 7:03	Bryan Miller	I'm 22 today, I can't believe it!!! it has been six years since I lost my baby sister... it still seems like yesterday, i wish you were here in body, but i know you are always with me in spirit. I Love you baby sis. Rhiannon must've been a true blessing... I'm honored to share her name!	wrestling for the remote, she wanted to watch animal planet, and i want to watch football.
4/21/2009 15:16	Rhiannon Annah-Ray Life	May She Be In Your Hearts Forever. Glad To Share The Same Name With Someone So Wonderful. Now When I Listen To Stevie Nicks Song I Will Think Of Her As Well. Its Amazing What You Find Just Googling Your Own Name.
4/25/2009 12:56	Rhiannon M. Corbet	Share The Same Name
9/26/2009 2:47	Pam	I too have a Rhiannon Miller but her middle name is Jolynn. I also named her after the Stevie Nicks song. My Rhiannon was born October 24, 1989 and I feel blessed to still have her with us. I have also refered to her of having an "old soul" and was amazed when I read the legacy written by her Daddy, that Rhiannon Lorene had one as well. I am so sorry for your loss.

9/28/2009 0:57 Natasha Gunter	Friends @ Roosevelt	I just saw a picture of you on someone's Myspace and I remembered this website.. It's weird it has been 6 years...! I hope you are up there looking down on all of us.. NO matter what.. You will always be loved and missed.. R.I.P	She always had a smile on her face.. Laughing and making the best of every situation. She was so tall she would intimidate all the boys...
11/13/2009 12:01 Marleena Turner	My sweet cousin!	I want to leave a message to say Happy birthday to you tmw! wow! you become 20 yr old! :) My birthday will be on next Saturday 22th, I will be 24 yr old. It's so cool we have the same day of Saturday. :) Give you much LOVES.. Always remember you. I see your dad around. I hope to see him again. :)	A SMILE....we were playing when we were little girls- went to fireplace we were playing around there.
11/27/2009 17:11 Stuart	Both played cello with Robin	It's hard to believe how quickly the years have flown by. I have since stopped playing cello but I'll always remember the good times we had in the short time that I knew you. R.I.P.	Playing the Bach duet at a recital
1/29/2010 21:47 Rhiannon Veitch	Share the same name	I am delighted to share my name with such a wonderful and beautiful girl. Her story touched me in many ways, I'm sorry for your loss. Just remember it is NOT goodbye, it is see you later.	I did not know her but if I did I'm sure there would be many good memories.
2/5/2010 18:13 Taryn Loveland	Drama Classmate	It's been years now, but I still think of Rhiannon from time to time. We were never that close, but I always liked her. Her spirit was just so cool. She had a fearless attitude and always was a bright light in any situation. After she passed, she stayed with me and still does. I look up to her and hope that I could adapt her attitude and the way she lived out her life every day. I will never forget her.	Her smile every day in class, and how she wore tall shoes being a TALL GIRL, that is sooo awesome! I am about her height and I still don't always feel comfortable ;))

3/14/2010 1:14	Rhiannon Anglin	I didn't know her~	Hello, I never knew her, but stumbled upon this page while researching my name. She sounded like a great person, too bad she didn't get to live a longer life, but at least she is in heaven now. One day you will see her again.
5/8/2010 21:20	Stephaine Triesch	I never knew her but my moms name is Rhiannon. She sounds like a very nice girl and i hope you will see her soon in heaven on day!
7/8/2010 3:41		Went to school with her Friend of	Today, as I was using the stumble upon feature of my internet, it brought me across this page. I was also in 7th grade with Rhiannon at reeves, we used to ride the same bus, and all through we sometimes didn't get along well all the time, the first day she wasn't there @ school, it was like a piece of me was missing - everyone shared the feeling. This site definitely brings back the memories i have and the times we spent. forever loved and never forgotten.
7/9/2010 17:08	Candice	Bryan	Thinking of you and your family.
8/9/2010 16:25	Bryan S Miller	Big Brother	Missing you, reading some of the beautiful things people write. thank you for the thoughts and memories from all of you. watching her kick butt in jujitsu

8/31/2010 23:49	Lucinda Jenkins	none	I did not know this young lady. I named my daughter Rhiannon and she just turned a year old. I googled her name and came across this site. My thoughts and prayers go out to your family.
9/29/2010 17:03	: Sarah	Went to Reeves Middle School together	Rhiannon I know its been almost 9 yrs you have been gone, but i think of you every day. You are such an amazing girl. I miss your smile and your happy attitude and how we used to talk all the time in the halls...I know your in a better place and I will see you again one day. I love you Rhiannon! XoXoXo Rest In :Peace girl Her smile and how she was such a great friend! I miss her so much <3
10/3/2010 18:13	Mary	I do not know you or your family.	I have a granddaughter who is undergoing her third bone marrow transplant and I know what it is to pray for a miracle to happen. God Bless Rhiannon's family and may her memory live on.

Hey sweet girl...just wanted to say hi and to wish you a very

Lori

It's hard to believe that you would be 21 now. I think of all of the things that you could have done and would have done. I still have the necklace that you made me for christmas I truly believe that you keep me safe from others and that you look out for my kids too. It makes me feel safe and everyday when I get in my car its a reminder of you. I miss you and I love you!

11/29/2010 5:00 : Kirsten Miller

Cousin

Coming over for her birthday party at uncle daves and wanting cake just to find out that she had spit on it while blowing out the candles lol.

Rhiannon,
Your dad loves you very much and still misses you like you were here yesterday.

Friend of her
Father | I did not know her, but if she was anything like her dad I sure wish I had the honor of meeting her.

In December 2002 I was visiting your Dad and you were supposed to come over that day but for some reason you couldn't; I had brought a box of beads with me (back then I used to design jewelry) and I thought it would be a nice way for us to get to know each other while making bracelets (or a necklace, or earrings, I was going to let you decide). Anyway, things have a way of happening and you and I never got to make jewelry together that day. A few months later I tucked that box away with my treasured things and it wasn't until this year I was able to finally take it out and look at it and decide what to do with those beads, I wanted to do something special with them because it's been 'your' box all these years. I started a ranch for kids with cancer and one of the things kids are going to get to do during their visit is make crafts. I decided to put your beads in what will be "Rhiannon's Jar" (there are hundreds of them, so we'll make them last). Each child who chooses to make a suncatcher will get to pick one special bead from the jar to go on the string. And I was thinking that, while we're making those suncatchers, I'm going to tell them the story of
